Associate Photographers

Sarah

My intention with imagery is to reflect the way I see and connect with the world, to step outside of myself and collect the things both big and small so deserving of attention - from the love and the magical light, to all the dancing inbetweens - ultimately transforming this unraveling reality into frames, into art.

Alyssa

Photography has been the constant for me, pushing me to work hard, and chase my dreams. I hope my photos inspire you for a lifetime, bring you back when you drift from your true self and remind you that you are perfect, exactly as you are right now.

Claire

Having grown up exploring the magical corners of this world with camera in hand, my photography style has always been to document the beauty around me and the world as I see it. I wholeheartedly believe that wedding photography is about unobtrusively capturing your story, in all of its sometimes unplanned, hilarious glory.

Aga

My artistic spirit directs me towards the play of colours, light and shadow, while my inner logic searches for graceful compositions and natural geometry. I love creating the visual space for your memories to live, breathe and touch your heart for years to come.

Client love

I was nervous to have cameras pointed at me. I was nervous for “all eyes on me”, I was nervous for a videographer to notice all the mistakes...

The Whistler Wedding Collective made all those nerves disappear! Everyone was so lovely and kind! As the photographers started to show up and start snapping I actually felt relaxed. This group of professionals captured such beautiful moments. After seeing the first few photos and sneak peeks of videos I fully understand the importance of having professionals for special moments. I kept thinking ‘we look famous!’ ‘It looks like it’s out of a magazine/ movie’.

We had a lot of cameras pointed at us, but it truly didn’t feel that way. The team would pop out from behind a tree, or peek over a bridge – they ran around getting every angle and from what we have seen so far....oh my gosh, SO special! We can’t wait to see more! Anastasia, you and the team you have put together are amazing! THANK YOU!

LEAH, WHISTLER

Client love

Working with the Whistler Wedding Collective was an absolute dream. I still feel lucky to this day that we stumbled upon them in our searches for a photographer. Leading up to the wedding Anastasia and Claire took the time to make sure we felt comfortable with the photography schedule, even sending us recommendations and timelines they know work well.

On the day of the wedding Claire was prompt, pleasant and amazing to work with. She both made us laugh when needed and made us feel unbelievably comfortable to capture the best candid and raw photos of us in our post-marriage glow. Anastasia did an amazing job editing the photos to top off the amazing experience. I cherish those photos so much and look at them and show them off often. Thank you again
