

1: Do you do 'Day of Coordination' or 'Month of Coordination'?

Glad you asked! It's a bit of an outdated term - but we will absolutely be there and support you on your most special day, our services will always begin as soon as you become a Moonstruck couple - we've got work to do! We call this collection "Event Management". We offer unlimited communication via text or email so you can contact us throughout your planning for advice, questions or just to vent!

2. How many people from your team will be there on the wedding day?

Weddings are staffed based on the unique needs of each event. Typically we will have 1-2 assistants on wedding day in addition to the Lead Planner.

3: What are the costs of your Collections?

We offer custom pricing for all Collections, but the average investment is:

Event Management: $2250

Partial Planning: $5500 Full Planning: $10500

4: Are you insured to work at my Venue?

Yes! We carry $1 million in general liability insurance which covers us to work in any venues.

5. What makes you different?

Well, we have a team comprised of planners and designers - meaning you get the best of both worlds when working with us! Someone who operates in their own zone of genius - the perfect duo!

6. Who will we specifically be working with?

When you book a planning package with us, you'll be introduced to your Lead Planner through your custom client portal. We thoughtfully pair you with a planner based on personality, design style, venue experience, and more to ensure the best fit for your day. While you'll have a dedicated planner, our team works closely behind the scenes to brainstorm creative guest experiences, design unique details, and make sure every box is checked — so you can relax and enjoy the process. For Event Management clients, a Lead Planner will be assigned three months before the wedding.

7: My Venue Requires a Coordinator, but I'm not sure how much help I actually need.

The number one feedback we get is how much stress we took off the bride on their big day and we cannot wait to do that for you as well.

We are excited to chat with you about your vision and where you are in the planning process so we can help you determine which service would be the best fit to make your big day stress free and fabulous!
