WELCOME

First off—THANK YOU. I'm truly honored that you're considering me to be a part of such an intimate and meaningful chapter of your story. Elopements are about stripping away the noise and focusing on what matters most: your love, your connection, your adventure.

I believe your day should feel like you, and capturing that - authentically and artfully - is what I'm here for. This guide is designed to give you a clear sense of what I offer, but more than that, I hope it gets you excited for what's ahead.

Whether you're hiking up a mountain at sunrise or saying your vows barefoot on the coast, I'm here to document every honest, beautiful, fleeting moment.

Let's get to it! It's going to be legendary,

Bisoux,

ХX

A NOTE FROM ME TO YOU

behind the lens

I'm Tatiana,

Over the years, I've dipped my toes into just about every corner of photography - portraits, families, events - and while each season taught me something valuable, nothing quite compares to the raw emotion, honest connection, and wild adventure of elopement weddings. That's where my heart landed, and it's where I've chosen to stay.

I'm not your traditional photographer - in fact, conventional settings tend to make my skin itch. I'm a creative soul who thrives on individuality, storytelling, and bending the "rules" to make space for something real. If you're dreaming of a wedding that reflects you, not a script or a checklist - then you're in the right place.

I'm here to do more than take beautiful photos. I'm here to listen, guide, and help you craft an experience that's fully aligned with your values, your love, and your wild, one-of-a-kind story. I'll handle the logistics and creative flow so you can lead with your heart, and stand fully in that main character energy your day deserves.

Let's create something that feels just like you.

THE PROCESS

(1) GET BOOKED IN

Once you've reviewed the guide, found your collection, decided this is it! The step is simple; reach out over my contact page and let me know your details! I will be in contact 24 - 48 hours later.

We can have a quick chat to discuss your plan and make sure the collection fits your desired adventure.

I'll send over the contract for you to review and then, a deposit is required to save your date!

I offer multiple payment plans to meet your needs.

(3) EDITING PHOTOS

We had your unreal elopement day. Obviously it was truly WOW and now it's time to do the rest of my work. Creating your gallery takes time, care, and attention. I cull and edit each photo myself. You can expect your full gallery to be ready 6-8 weeks after your elopement date. I know that everyone wants to see their imagery from their day ASAP, so I will send off some sneak peaks within the week the keep everyone settled and excited to see what is on it's way.

2 ALL THE PLANNING

Once your date is secured you will hear from me about a week later!

Questionnaires are a huge backbone of my organizational process. You'll receive an initial planning questionnaire. This is to gather all the must haves, the locations, the itty gritty details to start our planning. You can complete them on your own time so you have space to think about certain questions and be able to collectively answer. During the planning stages we will be in contact several more times to discuss who's on your vendor team, build out time lines and finalize all the excitement. We plan, then we execute!

All my packages come with exclusive planning resources - an elopement guide, budget tracker and leave no trace education.

4 GALLERY DELIVERY

You will get the "your gallery is ready" email and you're ready to sit down with your partner and happy cry while you see all the photos of your happy smiles, tearful interactions, and relive your elopement. All images are delivered in an online gallery, with high resolution and web sized pictures ready to be downloaded or printed.

Let's create a story that's wildly you, BEAUTIFULLY TOLLD & deeply felt

It's going to be meaningful, it's going to be bold. But most importantly it's going to be yours.

If you are local to the lower mainland area of British Columbia I highly consider an engagement shoot to pair with your elopement. Think of your engagement session as a low-pressure, fun way to shake off the nerves and start building something really important: trust and comfort. Being in front of a camera can feel awkward at first and you're not alone there in that experience. An engagement shoot gives us the chance to break the ice, get to know each other, and build a rhythm together long before your elopement day. It's like a trial run - not just for the photos, but for the energy, flow, and connection that can truly elevate your experience. The more at ease you feel with me and the camera, the more space you have to be fully present in your elopement and that's where the magic really happens.

REQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

(1) DO WE NEED TO HIKE OR BE OUTDOORSY TO ELOPE?

ABSOLUTELY NOT! Your elopement can be anywhere - on a mountaintop, in your backyard, a cozy Airbnb, or city rooftop. It's about meaningful choices, not how extreme the location is. You might see alot of pictures of eloping couples in extreme locations - did they always get up there with their two feet and a heart beat? No. But you can if you want!

(2) CAN WE INCLUDE GUESTS IN OUR ELOPEMENT?

YES! You get to choose who witnesses your day, who you invite and who you share these intimate moments with. It can two friends to witness or a small handful of your closest people. There isn't a magic number. It's about intentionality.

③ HOW DO WE CHOOSE THE RIGHT LOCATION FOR OUR ELOPEMENT?

I help with that! Once we chat about your vision, values, and vibe, I'll offer location ideas that match your dream - from epic overlooks to quiet hidden gems. But if you have a set location, you get to drag me along while I help plan and support the logistics.

4 DO WE NEED PERMITS OR LEGAL DOCUMENTS TO ELOPE?

Often, yes - especially if you're eloping in a city, provincial, national or state park. I'll guide you through what's needed and how to get it so everything is legal and stress-free. Your legal documents are more about your marriage license. If you are getting married in your country it's so simple. However, if you wanting a destination the legal steps to marry in another country can get more complex. Alot of people who marry internationally will have a symbolic elopement and get married legally in their home country.

(5) WHAT SHOULD WE WEAR TO OUR ELOPEMENT?

Whatever makes you feel amazing! I'll help with guidance depending on the terrain, season, and vibe, but the goal is always comfort, confidence, and movement-friendly. The weather can play an element in planning but we can always dress for comfort first and peel back layers as needed throughout your experience.

(6) WHAT HAPPENS IF THE WEATHER IS BAD?

Elopements are flexible by nature, and don't necessary need to be hosted outside which is the beauty of them! Many couples do want an outdoor elopement which is awesome! Weather variables are going to be more unpredictable depending on location. We can always adjust timing, location, or embrace the elements for some truly unique and moody images. Backup plans are always part of the conversation. Most of my couples have also just honored the elements and danced in the rain!

(7) HOW LONG SHOULD OUR ELOPEMENT BE?

Your elopement deserves a full story, not just a quick ceremony. Most couples choose between 4 to 8+ hours of coverage, depending on travel, adventure they want to include, hikes, getting ready, private vows, and all the inbetween moments that make the day yours. You get to choose their is no right or wrong choice.
