

Jemaine Finlay - Biology of Belief

Jemaine works with organizations to deliver simple, actionable strategies that enhance inner peace, resilience, and transformation in individual's lives. She brings a unique blend of relatability and scientific depth to the stage, helping individual's overcome stress and create lasting positive change in physical, psychological, and spiritual wellbeing.

Biology of Belief

- Beliefs and perceptions from childhood direct 95% of our lives without awareness. Learn how to reclaim conscious control in the mind for better health, career and connections.
- Manifestation is grounded in neuroscience and physics. We are all manifesting our lives in every moment, it's now time to do it with conscious intention.
- Understanding the Observer Effect helps individual's shift their vibrational state in a given moment, creating a more empowered and intentional state of being and sustainable change.
- When we elevate through Jemaine's model of 5 Levels of Consciousness, choosing to live from intellect and intuition rather than stress and survival we create a ripple effect in humanity and an impact in our future far greater than we could ever know.
