BIOGRAPHY

Prophetess Candace Junée is a transformative marketplace ministry leader celebrated for her pure heart for God. As the CEO of Epic Fab Girl, she helps Christian women entrepreneurs market & scale their businesses beyond 6-Figures - while keeping God at the center of their lives and businesses. She leads a global weekly prayer call, drawing hundreds from the U.S., U.K., Nigeria, South Africa, Australia and beyond. Through her Go-Getter Conferences, events, and podcast she integrates prayer, worship, deliverance, and prophetic insights - helping women grow deeper spiritually & in faith.

As an award-winning digital marketing & automation strategist who has generated millions in sales, Candace has helped over 25,000 business owners grow their income and increase their visibility online. She is the Lead Strategist at the Candace Junée Agency that specializes in maximizing ROI and impact for corporations, churches, and organizations through digital marketing, strategic events, and executive leadership coaching. Her expertise has been sought after by prestigious brands like the Obama Foundation, the NAACP, ESSENCE, and many others. Known for her genuine desire to see women succeed, Candace's vision is to help women live boldly in purpose, assured that all of Heaven is backing them!

Had a blast with Purdue University Women In Business this last semester! My favorite event was the Monarch Leadership Conference, where Candace Armour encouraged us to "Embrace the Unexpected"! This was a great reminder as I have combatted Covid-19, college, and Purdue's coursework all in one year!
