FINE ART PHOTOGRAPHER

THE COLLECTIONS

2022

WELCOME

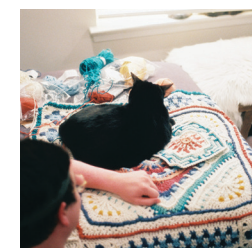

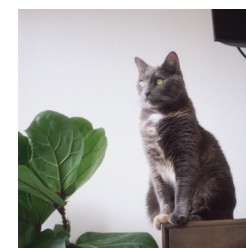

I am so excited that you are interested in choosing me to document your special day! I believe that choosing a wedding photographer is about more than just hiring someone with a camera to document your day. Your wedding photographer should be someone who makes you feel comfortable, someone who eases the craziness of a wedding day, and maybe... someone who eventually becomes a friend.

I'm a fine art wedding photographer based in Hanover, Maryland. I love natural light and often use film to slow down time and truly capture the beauty of a moment. I strive to create beautiful images that are classic, natural and tell your unique story, down to its roots.

My home life looks like spending quality time with my husband and two beautiful kitties. When I'm not editing or connecting with my couples, I'm knitting or crocheting, making a homecooked Korean meal just like my mom, singing, bowling in my Friday night bowling league, or writing code (my other life - I've also been a software engineer for 5 years) I'm so thankful for the life that I have and learning about the lives of my couples.

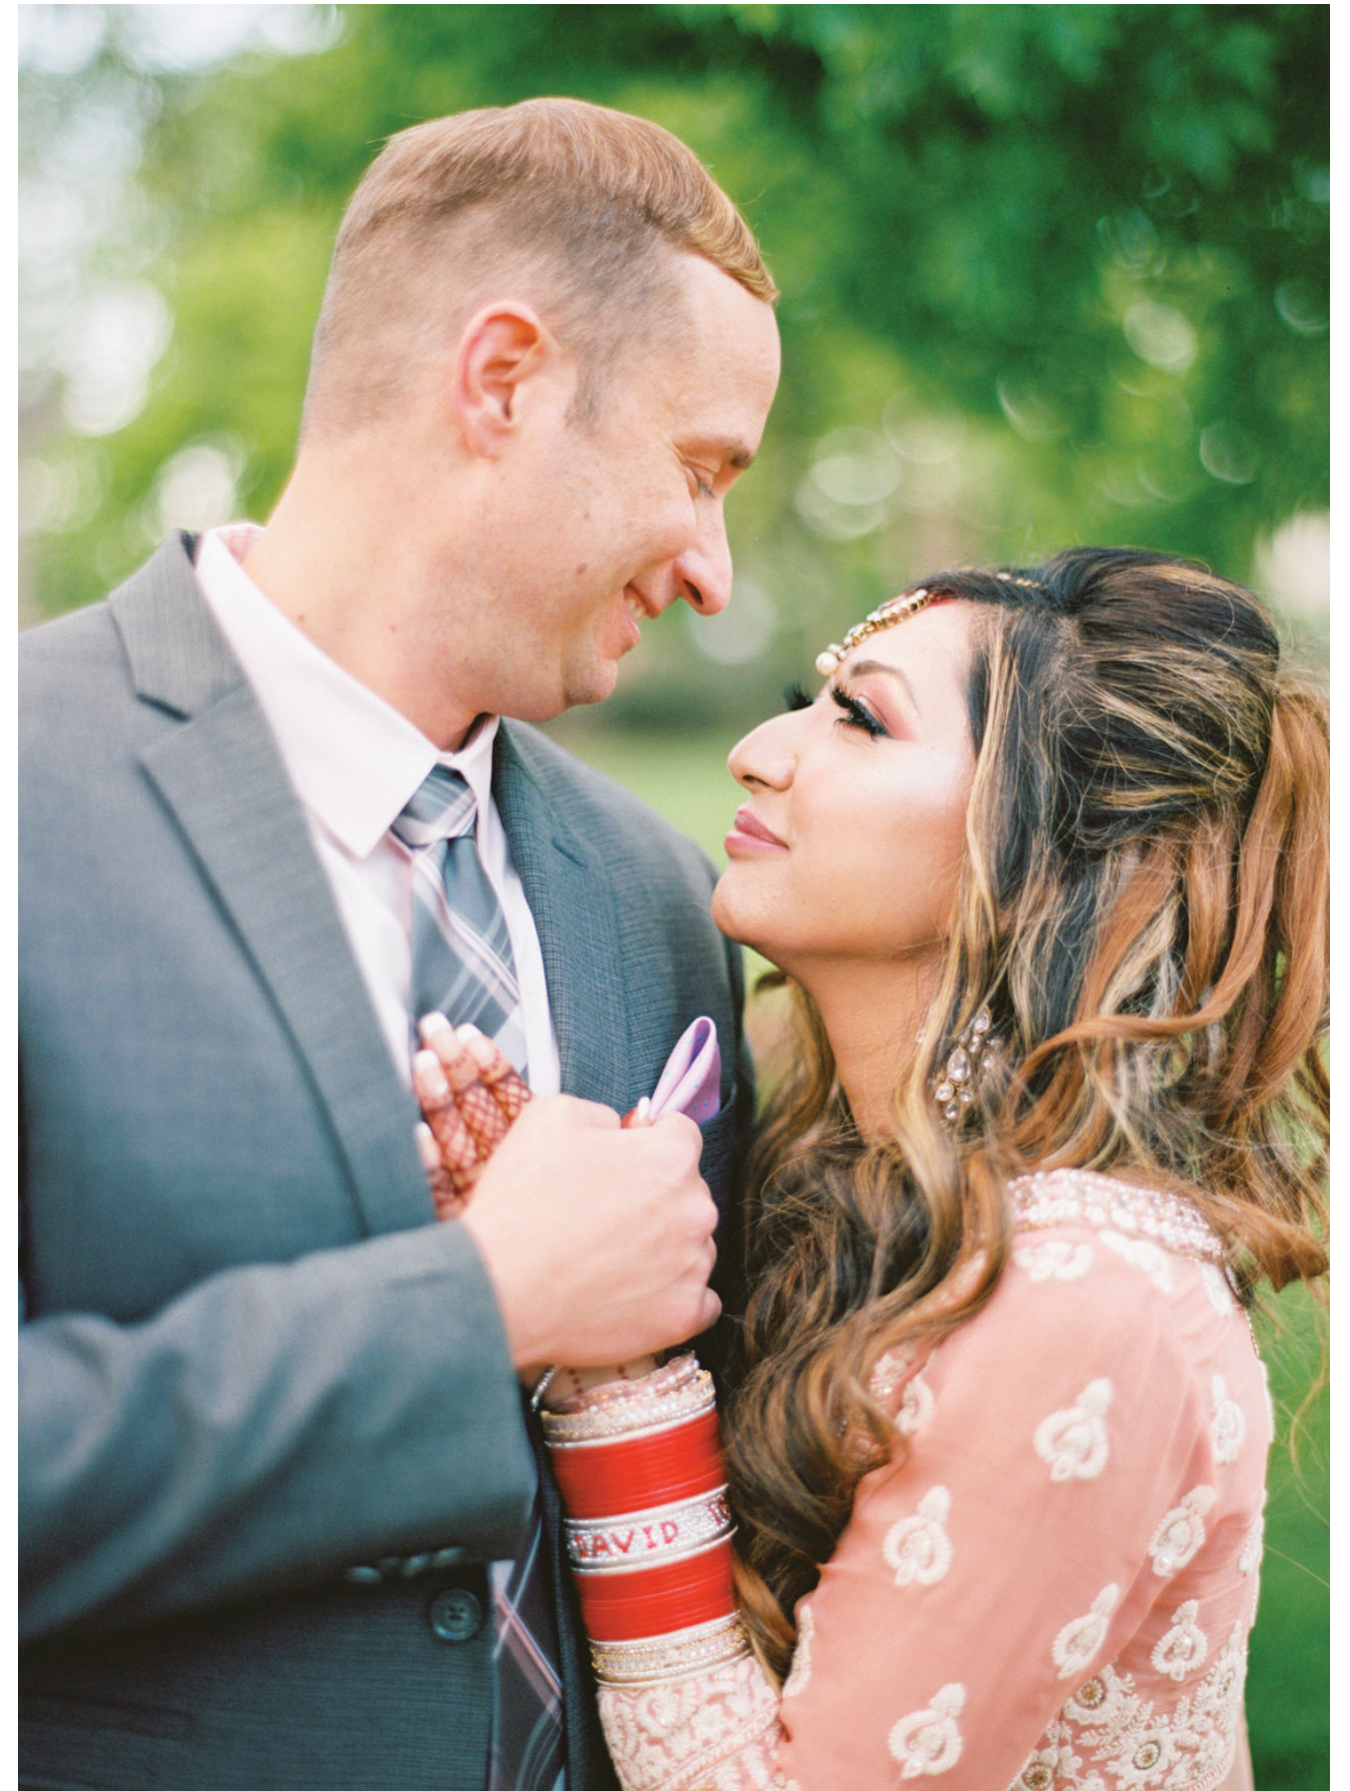

- JENNY

KIND WORDS

“Jenny was my photographer for my both my Christian and Hindu wedding ceremonies and receptions. When I say she’s amazing, please believe it. She captured every small detail, got “in the moment” pictures when no one thinks she’s looking, and made me feel comfortable. It’s important for a photographer to be vocal and tell you what’s best for the shot and sometimes take charge when needed. Jenny was all that, and more, and did it with gentle grace and style. I’m truly honored that I got to meet Jenny, have her as a friend, and have added her as my life time photographer for all my life events moving forward. I put in all my trust with her, and my family and friends really enjoyed her lovely personality too.”

THE PROCESS

In my experience, I've learned to appreciate the value of a good fit between me and my couples. That's why my process begins with a conversation. I want to hear everything—how you met, funny first date stories, and how you got engaged. We'll get to know one another, talk about the details of your day, answer any questions you might have about working with me and figure out if we're the best fit for each other.

If we are a great fit, the next step is to reserve your date with a signed contract and a 50% deposit. From there, we'll begin planning your engagement session. There might be several months in between your session and your wedding, but I'm always around to answer questions you have throughout the planning process (I know it's a lot to think about!). About two months before the big day, I'll check in again with a pre-wedding questionnaire to help us finalize the timeline, create the family formal shot list and to make sure I'm fully prepared to photograph your wedding.

After the wedding, I'll send your film off to my lab and once they deliver the digital film scans back to me, I'll edit the images and upload them in an online gallery. You can expect to receive your images between 6-8 weeks after your wedding. I always try to send over some sneak peeks much sooner than that, because I'm just as excited for you to see them as you!

Albums may be ordered anytime before or after the wedding day. The holiday deadline for beginning an order is November 1st.

ENGAGEMENT SESSION

Unless you're a model, being photographed probably feels a little awkward. I'm behind a camera constantly and I still get nervous being in front of it!

I'm a big fan of engagement sessions for a few reasons. First, they allow you to get comfortable in front of the camera. It takes time for most couples to warm up to being photographed and understand how I pose. Timelines can be pretty tight on wedding days and 30 minutes may be all we have for portraits - which is why I've found that wedding day portraits turn out so much better when couples do engagement sessions ahead of time.

Second, you can showcase your personalities in a more casual setting that is significant to the two of you (and even maybe include pets!) While they're great for save-the-dates, I've taken engagement photos anywhere from 18 months in advance to a few weeks before the wedding.

All of my collections include a complimentary engagement session.

FAQ

We love your work and we're ready to book! What's the next step?

Fantastic! To reserve your wedding date, we'll need a completed contract and a 33% non-refundable deposit. If you don't have a contract yet, just let us know and we'll send one over! The remaining balance will be due 1 week before the wedding.

Do you shoot film or digital?

Film is the medium that inspired me to begin photographing weddings. I love its classic look, warmth, and its ability to make even the most simple moments feel beautiful and timeless. But, there is also a time and a place where digital photography shines, and it allows me to confidently capture faster or low-light moments. I will always choose the medium that makes the most sense in the moment, and ultimately your gallery will look cohesive, with all digital images edited keeping film photography in mind. All rolls of film are sent to a professional lab to be developed and scanned. Your final images are delivered digitally as jpegs in an online gallery.

How many photos do your galleries typically include and can we print the photos ourselves?

Galleries typically include anywhere between 400 and 800 photos. The exact amount varies from wedding to wedding. Your online gallery will come loaded with fully-edited high resolution images you can print anywhere.

When do you charge travel fees?

I typically add travel fees on to any wedding outside of a 60 mile radius from my home in Hanover, Maryland. Fees vary depending on location, so ask me for more details.
