STAY BLANCANEAUX LODGE

Francis Ford Coppola fell in love with Belize in the 1980s and bought Blancaneaux Lodge. It opened to the public in 1993 and offers a luxurious retreat in a remote mountain setting.

With villa-style rooms, waterfalls, wildlife, and Mayan ruins nearby, it's an eco-luxury paradise with Italian cuisine and a notable wine selection.

The open-air Waterfall Spa specializes in Thai massages.

DISCOVER CRYSTAL CAVES

Embark on a thrilling adventure of romance with Cave Tubing in the Caves Branch River: float on inner tubes through a network of ancient caves adorned with mesmerizing crystal formations.

EXPLORE ANCIENT SITES

Explore the ancient Mayan site of Caracol. This impressive archaeological site is nestled deep within the jungles of Belize. You and your partner can wander through the ancient plazas, climb to the top of towering pyramids, and learn about the fascinating history of the Maya civilization.

SNORKEL AZURE OCEAN

While the Blue Hole itself is not teeming with the colorful marine life found in other parts of the Belize Barrier Reef, the surrounding waters offer excellent diving and snorkeling opportunities. Many divers combine their Blue Hole dive with visits to nearby dive sites and coral reefs, where they can encounter a diverse array of marine species, including tropical fish, turtles, and rays.

SOAR BELIZE BARRIER REEF

Marvel at the The Great Blue Hole of Belize, a UNESCO World Heritage site, while on a thrilling aerial helicopter tour. This geological marvel is the largest marine sinkhole in the world and iconic symbol of Belize's natural beauty.
