ABOUT LYNETTE ROMERO

Most days, you can find me with an iced coffee in one hand while lighting a candle with the other. When I'm not designing albums, I'm hiking the local trails, participating in volunteer work with my husband Chris, trying out new recipes or muddling my way through a home project. I design albums for people who value their photos and are looking for a way to showcase them but are too busy to take on yet another project.
