WELCOME

Hi, I'm Rachel, owner of Salt and Scent.

Firstly thank you for getting in touch; I will be your main point of contact throughout the planning. On your big day I will be there supported by my team of highly experienced planners and stylists. I take things personally, making it my mission to really get to know you to ensure you have a completely personalised, unforgettable celebration. No cookie-cutter events here!

With over 15 years of experience managing events at award-winning venues, and heading up luxury marquee weddings and parties at private residencies you can be certain that my team and I have the skills required to make sure everything is planned and delivered perfectly.

We will take care of every step for you, bringing your vision to life from concept to creation. On the day we will be right by your side from start to finish allowing you to relax and enjoy the celebrations to the fullest.

More...

Transparency is important for us.

We never take commission; instead any benefits we receive from suppliers are passed to you. We select vendors that we feel are perfect for YOU, not because it benefits us.

Working with the very best in suppliers across the Cotswolds and further afield, we ensure that every element of your day is not only executed effortlessly, but packs in the wow-factor at every possible turn.

Systems we use

Aisle Planer is a wonderful system we have invested in. Here we build your own online portal to keep your wedding plans in one place. From design boards, budget tracking, timelines, supplier details and payments, to personalised checklists - it has it all.
