Forever in love with candid moments

THE EXPERIENCE

As your photographer, my goal is to capture your family and provide a memorable experience. I want you to look back on your session and feel just as excited about the process as you do about the final results! When we are having a good time during your shoot, that joy and ease will naturally translate to your photos, making them truly genuine.

My job as an artist is to create work that is meaningful to you. If you've never had a photo session before - It's going to be waaaay easier and more fun than you probably expect!

I love to learn about you and your family - all the big and small details - and anything you might be envisioning for our session. You'll also have the opportunity to ask me anything. My number one priority is to make you feel comfortable.

A typical session will start off by spending a few minutes together just hanging out. This gives everyone a chance to get used to me and let off a little bit of energy in the process. Once we've gotten acquainted, I'll grab my camera and start capturing your family together.

A CLIENT'S HONEST

REVIEW

"Amy was a dreamy mix of professional, personable, efficient and fun, and the resulting images were magic. The images she captured were a perfect combination of posed and candid and they represent our crazy, beautiful stage of life right now.

I will treasure these images forever! My kids and husband enjoyed the session, which for anyone with a husband or kids, you KNOW that this speaks volumes."

FAQ'S

WILL YOU POSE US?

The short answer is no but I will guide you. I want you to have photos that look and feel like you. Based on the details from our pre-session phone chat, I will make sure the session flows naturally so that you and your family are having fun and not worried about where to look and feeling too posed.

WHAT IF MY KIDS ARE NOT INTO THIS?

Hey, I get this! That's a lot to worry about and my job is to make your session a fun, memory-making experience rather than something to "get through." I invest in learning about your family beforehand so I can draw out your unique personalities and make it come to life.

I LOVE THIS BUT HOW MUCH EFFORT WILL THIS TAKE?

I know juggling work and family (and everything else!) is an Olympian feat and there is so little time and energy left at the end of the day to even lay on the couch. I will provide you a fully customizable service - nothing will be left up to you and all your questions will be answered - so all you need to do is show up and leave the magic to me.

Don't wait to book! Dates are going quick!
