How it works

It all begins with an inquiry.

Choose your package, and select your preferred customizations along with the additional a la carte items you'd like to include in your day. Once we confirm we're available for your date, we'll set up a time for a consultation so we can get to know each other a little better. Once contracts are signed, and the deposit is paid, we'll arrange a second meeting to learn more about you and your fiancé, and your vision for your wedding day.
