

FIVE UNIQUE WAYS TO CONNECT YOUR

Vision

TO CAPITAL

If you're reading this then clearly you have a passion and or an idea that you feel could impact the world around you, right? You probably also have a dream so big that you recognize it's obviously going to take some money to pull this whole thing off, if so you're in the right place so keep reading.

I designed this free easy to read download just for women like you, looking to make major impact and income so let's get right into it sis..

First, let's talk vision because how in the world can you bring in money when you have no idea what you want? You can't sis, you just can't! So the first way to truly connect your vision to capital is..

#1 CLARITY

Clarity is an extremely important yet powerful tool, because lets be honest you can be in the room with some of the most wealthy people but gain nothing from it because you don't know what you need or what you even do, ask me how I know!

I know you might be thinking how do I get clarity or how do I know if I have clarity? In order to have clarity you must know YOU, this is why you can't skip the internal work. Get out a piece of paper and write out every God given gift and talent that you have then I want you to also get in a quiet space and think about every thing you use to aspire to be or do since you were a child. It's important that you don't allow limiting beliefs and thoughts to dictate what you write down.

For example I always I mean always just loved watching things on TV, or doing things that seemed super fancy and above average. I have always been obsessed with big beautiful homes, my cousin and I actually use to spend hours explaining the design of our homes and the things that were in it, and of course if you know me it always gave fancy vibes hunny! That's something that has NEVER changed about me because it's at the core of who I am and what I desire for myself no one else.

So take off the limits and start writing, once you get clear you can then relay this message with passion to others and those people and things that align with you I PROMISE will start just throwing you money and/ or opportunities that lead to money.

#2 COMMUNITY:

Let's just get straight to the point on this one, it's time to ditch the haters that are just simply confused fans.

This is probably the most important one because I believe God does NOTHING in ones okay he uses people to impact other people. Ditch this bullshit that says "I don't do people", "I'm just not a people person", and "I don't trust people" cause baby the reality is if your saying all this its ultimately a reflection of WHO YOU ARE, you don't trust people cause you can't trust your damn self, and or you have some deep insecurities which is why you need to refer back to #1.

Listen, when you KNOW what YOU were made to do hunny, you so easily and freely connect with everyone around you AND you support them too OPENLY and CONSISTENTLY not just when it's convent because trust me wealthy people don't hang with haters and they will pick up your vibe real quick. Also if you have friends or family that talk this way and do any of things I've mentioned you need to distance yourself as much as possible, don't even give them any energy because the moment you do you mess with your energy and your money.

Okay, so you probably are wondering how you find community, that's easy community is all around you BUT it requires you going around people that are on levels that you aren't and I know its hard sis but you also have to admit that you have some friends, family, or colleagues around you that have what you want and say it with me "it's nothing wrong with admitting your friend or your favorite internet influencer has something that you don't have but you want it"! When you accept this you then position yourself as a student, and trust me wealthy girls and happy girls are always ready to give you the play when they feel that you see them as an inspiration NOT competition!

I mean think about it why would you someone who won't even fully be a secret service supporter, nah sabotage me as well. I say all that you just a tad bit, well a lot of bit cheer for the girls that have ten in your one bedroom apart- and even pray for the girls want and find out what it and ride it! As you invest guess what the money and want to share information with support you because they wanna hunny you might secretly try to to say go to the spaces that scare if your like me, hang out and properties while you still living ment, or hang out and cheer for with the type of husbands you costs sis get on that frequency time and money in doing this opportunities flow.

#3 MASTERMINDING :

This one I will keep short and simple, find a coach invest in a coach and invest in any masterminds they have and if you don't have thousands of dollars to pay for coaching just yet, buy some of their books, join in on any affordable monthly coaching programs that they may have. Save up to attend a mastermind at some point because so many people sleep on this but masterminds have made me my biggest ROI (return on investment), because when you get in a group where people are investing big money on themselves you meet people with money naturally or you get introduced to people with money simple as that.

The reason people charge so much for this and you have these exclusive communities is to protect the integrity of the communities as well as to separate the talkers from the doers, because you will learn especially as you expand and grow that baby doers really can't stand to waste time with talkers, and if you introduce someone like that to your millionaire or billionaire friend it's going to reflect bad on you.

#4 GRANTS :

This one is pretty self explanatory however a lot of people miss out on it because we won't simply take the time to learn ourselves, get clarity on where we're going, create a business plan and then EXECUTE. If your not ready to really execute then this is not going to work for you.

I encourage you to go on websites like grant watch and find out what grants are out there pick up a few grant writing books especially when your on a budget, this is something I've done myself. This is really where that research and commitment kicks in, and you then in turn can utilize the grants to get yourself to the next level over and over again!

#5 SOCIAL MEDIA :

I know sis this may be one you don't wanna talk about or you have all these fears around getting on social media and poppin' your ish but you have to babe you just have to, until you get to the bag or you feel you've established a presence that you are happy with, then you gotta show up on social.

Obviously you're not at the level you'd like to be at or you wouldn't be reading this! I can't tell you how many times I've gotten a bag from meeting a new social media bestie! The fun thing about this as well is that typically these are your biggest freaking supporters and they never have even met you! You wanna know why? Because they are dealing with the same limiting beliefs and fears that you are but they are still choosing to show up unapologetically and that takes guts and some serious delusion sometimes.

Now sis, don't just get on social media with no strategy and pleaseeeee no poor quality flyers, pictures, and videos I don't care what anyone says baby it makes a difference. I definitely suggest you research or get in community where you can learn and strategize with other women on how to make social media work for you. Stop using it to be nosey but lie and say you don't never get on there, stop using it to talk about your baby daddy or trifling people in your life that you need to clear out anyway. Social media is literally your hub to make money not compare, and when you know who YOU are and what YOUR called to you can do just that, period!

Now that I've given you a few ways you can go out here and attract as well as GET the money you need to fund the vision, it's time for you to get to work hunny!
