Hello Friend

Peacock & Dahlia was once a passion project by founder Catherine Perez. Catherine's designs have humble beginnings; from painting and organizing homes for flipping while in college, to present-day DIY projects. After the birth of her son, the creative side of her lit up, and her penchant for paint and color combinations has created quite a buzz amongst her followers. She began blogging and never looked back!

My superpower is finding the intricacies that make your home yours. I am no mind-reader, but I have ways to find the pulse of what pulls your space together.

How I Design Spaces

We work with our clients to create a home with soul - while cultivating the perfect mood for each space.

I'm a believer that just because you have a budget, it doesn't mean it has to be boring. Creating spaces that are thoughtfully composed and meaningful are at the heart of what we do.

Finding your style can be difficult or overwhelming - but it doesn't have to be! Together, I create solutions and deliver results that improve your wellbeing and comfort in your home.

KIND WORDS

She is so talented and picks up on the vibe you're looking for right away. I loved every handpicked piece she shared with me, and she was very responsive to my input and suggestions as well. We set a budget at the beginning of our planning which was cool - that left me with zero financial worries from the get-go. As a first-time homeowner with little experience in interior design, décor, and placing furniture for optimal flow, I can say without a doubt that the moment I spoke to Catherine I knew I was in good hands.
