

JUNE 2020 MID-YEAR REPORT

YOU ARE CREATING CHANGE.

Your donations have enabled us to expand our support for survivors through local partners in Laos and Cambodia! For the past decade, each of these local partners has provided safety, education and job training to survivors of human trafficking and those at risk of exploitation. We are grateful to be supporting these new partners so that they can continue to do such impactful work.

The COVID-19 pandemic continues to create various challenges across our project partners. In Canada, our in-person private screenings of The Twelve Thousand film have been forced to pause throughout the rest of the year, though we will be launching the film digitally in early Fall. We will also be holding our first summer fundraising event Move For Freedom on August 15th.

In Nepal, our local partner has persevered through over 90 days of government lockdown and the country is experiencing major food shortages. Your donations have helped us to provide food for the 150 children in our five safe homes as well as meet the urgent nutritional needs in surrounding communities.

Our vision for the next 3-5 years includes expanding the capacity and sustainability of our three local partners in Nepal, Laos and Cambodia. We're thankful for the trustworthy and collaborative relationship we have with the national leaders overseeing our partner projects and we look forward to continuing to support their work!

In order to support the operations of our three international projects and our operations in Canada we need to fundraise an annual budget of $1.3 - $1.5 million. Additionally, we are continuing to fundraise towards the goal of purchasing land and building new safe home facilities in Nepal through The Twelve Thousand film campaign, which we will be re-launching digitally due to limits on group gatherings. The new facilities will help us increase our capacity to care for rescued survivors, increase project stability and sustainability and create opportunities for future training and growth throughout Asia.

We're grateful for your support, encouragement and promotion of this work, and we know that it is because of your generosity that we're able to provide care to those in our homes! Thank you for becoming part of the Ally family and supporting our monthly needs.

Sincerely,

RANDY WATSON

MY ENTIRE LIFE CHANGED.

When I was trafficked, I was broken. I lost my hope and my fears grew every day. It was a nightmare. I was in a brothel for two and a half years, but my life today has made me stronger and given me the courage to fight back.

My entire life changed when I came to this organization many years ago. I still remember the welcome they gave me when I arrived—everyone hugged me and smiled! Seeing how happy they were, made me happy.

I never imagined that I could be restored and made new, but today, I am a new person.

I have the courage to share my story, and to speak up, because of my sisters in the home who love and believe in me. Now, I'm working towards completing a degree. This place has been a dream—where everyone can find healing and experience love.

How do you measure success in the middle of a world pandemic? Unprecedented times have called for a revision of expectations for every business, non-profit, government, family, and individual.

The uncertainty that has come from a global shutdown has forced everyone to assess how they will maintain a pace set and expected the year, even quarter, prior. This is why I am so excited about the growth, expansion, and support that has continued for Ally over the last six months. I am especially proud of the organization's commitment to maintaining transparency through the completion of a successful independent audit, which has laid a foundation for credibility and accuracy for the years to come. It has demonstrated to me not only the level of commitment from Randy and the team but also from the many people who believe and stand beside the partners who continue to work tirelessly to improve the lives of those affected by trafficking. I look forward to what will be accomplished, through the support of our donors and volunteers, in the months ahead!

As a young charity we've set audacious goals to meet the urgent needs of our international project partners and children in our care. You have blown us away with your generosity and commitment to this work. I never could have imagined that we would be here today, able to make the commitments we have to our partners to continue enabling care for vulnerable women and children. As we continue to grow and reach more children we are grateful for your ongoing support. Our international team are the heroes on the front line, and you have truly become their allies, thank you.
