Experience It! Aran Islands

These rugged islands stand fast against the Atlantic, just outside of Galway Bay. Just a few miles from the Cliffs of Moher, each of the three islands, Inisheer, Inishmaan, and Inishmore, possesses its own distinct character. Seemingly frozen in time, these islands have remarkably kept the modern world at bay. Visit Inishmore (or Inis Mór, meaning "the big island"). Inhabited by a population of only 850, this rocky enclave is the largest of the islands. In addition to its stark natural beauty, it is well-known for playing home to a number of archaeological sites. Na Seacht Teampaill, or the Seven Churches, was a pilgrimage site on the Aran Islands during the Middle Ages and part of this ancient structure remains today.
