Local Red Cross volunteers provide lifeline for families strained by 2025 disasters

Donate this holiday season at redcross.org to help ensure no one faces a crisis alone

PHILADELPHIA, PA — In 2025, local volunteers like Richard Strayves, pictured above helping in Kensington after a fire, became a lifeline for thousands of neighbors reeling from disasters in Philadelphia and Southeastern Pennsylvania.

In a powerful display of community, hundreds of local American Red Cross of Southeastern Pennsylvania volunteers responded alongside partners to provide safe refuge, emotional support and basic health services. They also distributed over $650,000 in financial assistance directly to hundreds of households recovering in 2025 from disasters of all sizes in Southeastern Pennsylvania. This included more than 500 local home fires.

Crises like these show no signs of slowing down. During the holidays, home fire responses spike nearly 20% nationwide, due to seasonal risks such as cooking and heating. In Philadelphia, Bucks, Chester, Delaware and Montgomery counties alone, nearly 500 people rely on the Red Cross after home fires in a typical November and December.

“Disasters don’t take holidays — and neither do our volunteers,” said Jennifer Graham, CEO of the American Red Cross of Southeastern Pennsylvania. “Thanks to generous donations, they have the resources to deliver comfort, hope and support to help people recover. Through these simple acts of giving, we together as a community to bring light to a family’s darkest days — right when it’s needed most.”

This holiday season, visit redcross.org to make a financial donation or to give back through volunteering. You can also make an appointment to give blood or platelets. The need for blood is constant — and just like disasters, medical emergencies don’t take holidays.

How Local Responders Helped Disaster Survivors, Hospital Patients and Veterans

DISASTER SERVICES

Over 40 local volunteers delivered aid for major disasters across the country, including wildfires in California, flooding in Kentucky and Texas, tornadoes in Missouri and even a typhoon in Alaska. Responding to disasters is a team effort, and as they become more frequent and intense, families are relying on volunteers for support.

BLOOD SERVICES

Over 125,000 local blood and platelet donors helped save lives in Southeastern Pennsylvania and across the country, including people facing life-threatening conditions like cancer, sickle cell disease, childbirth complications and traumatic injuries. Patients rely on a consistent blood supply to survive and heal — and it’s the blood already on the shelves that helps save lives in an emergency.

SERVICE TO THE ARMED FORCES

Over 50 local volunteers and staff supported military and veteran communities in Southeastern Pennsylvania by helping to care for veterans at two V.A. hospitals in the region.

TRAINING SERVICES

Nearly a dozen people in Southeastern Pennsylvania were honored with a National Lifesaving Award for helping to save lives with Red Cross skills like first aid and CPR. They were among 260 individuals across the country who received recognition for helping to save over 150 lives with their Red Cross training. Award recipients included three lifeguards at the Quakertown YMCA who saved the life of a swimmer who went into sudden cardiac arrest earlier this year.

Visit redcross.org/philly for more stories about how people from all across Southeastern Pennsylvania helped their neighbors, friends and loved ones in 2025.

MISSION

CreateAccess broadens access to opportunities in technology by providing onramps to 3D creation through exposure education.

AREAS SERVED

Greater Philadelphia; free educational materials at createaccess.org.

YEAR FOUNDED

ORGANIZATION ADDRESS

CreateAccess provides programs in the meeting spaces of its collaborating organizations, and otherwise operates remotely or in office space donated by Bentley Systems. It's address for administration is in Drexel Hill, PA 19026

Our History

CreateAccess was founded by life partners Patrick Cozzi and Liz Dailey. Patrick is the founder of Cesium, a 3D geospatial platform that was acquired by Bentley Systems. Liz is a social worker. CreateAccess was inspired by Patrick's parents, who worked tirelessly to help Patrick and his siblings access a world of opportunity that they couldn't access themselves. Patrick and Liz hope CreateAccess helps provide exposure to high-impact careers and close this gap for other families.

Our Goals

CreateAccess makes the 3D tech field more inclusive and accessible by helping young people with limited previous exposure to get started with 3D creation and see that 3D education and careers are within reach. It augments the offerings of schools and community organizations to include 3D; shows creators the broad applications of 3D skills and technologies; scaffolds opportunities for creators to deepen their skills; and encourages their contributions to the larger creator community.

Our Services

CreateAccess' programs and educational materials introduce beginners to 3D creation with low-barrier, step-by-step projects that focus on skills including CAD, 3D printing, and game development. Projects demonstrate the possibilities of 3D, ignite curiosity, build confidence, highlight cross-sector applications of 3D, and encourage personalization and experimentation. Programs are supported by educators and a team of emerging professionals who provide relatable possibility models for beginners while building their own skills and fostering a culture of giving back.

Our Impact on the Community

In 2025, CreateAccess brought in-person 3D creation education to more than 300 beginner creators connected to nine collaborating organizations. Many highly-engaged creators have an ongoing relationship with CreateAccess, and CreateAccess is continuously developing new programs to help them continue building their skills. CreateAccess employed 10 local students and early career professionals through its internship program - some hired directly from its creator community - to help them gain professional experience while paving the way for others.

Support Us

CreateAccess builds direct relationships with corporate and individual supporters whose philanthropic goals include technology education, economic mobility, or development of a robust and inclusive Philadelphia-area workforce. If you are interested in supporting CreateAccess' work with a donation, by sharing your expertise, or by making an introduction to a potential community collaborator, please contact liz@createaccess.org.

CreateAccess welcomes industry professionals, students and other volunteers to support CreateAccess' mission by sharing their knowledge with beginner creators, helping facilitate or guest speak at in-person programs, advising the CreateAccess team about 3D creation tools and skills that align with priorities in education and industry, and developing or testing learning content.

CreateAccess is very grateful for donated workspace, professional development opportunities for creators, and financial support provided by Bentley Systems.

ABOUT US

Boys & Girls Clubs of Philadelphia has been serving youth since the Germantown Club first opened its doors in 1887. Since then, we have expanded, providing quality programming to youth in neighborhoods across Philadelphia. In 1892, our Nicetown Club opened, becoming the first Club to serve girls. Our Wissahickon Club, which opened in 1896, was the first in the nation to serve African American Youth. Today we operate 24 Clubs in Philadelphia’s most economically disadvantaged communities. For 138 years, BGCP has been dedicated to ensuring that at-risk children have access to quality programs that will enhance their lives and advance their futures.

MISSION STATEMENT

Our mission is to enable all young people, especially those who need us most, to reach their full potential as productive, caring, responsible citizens.

VISION

Boys & Girls Clubs of Philadelphia will become one of the premier Boys & Girls Club organizations in the country, solidifying its position as the leading youth guidance and development agency in the community through quality staff, facilities and programs, supported by financial stability and clearly defined standards.

THE NEED

Over 25% of Philadelphia’s youth live in poverty and only 17% of Philadelphia’s 4th graders read proficiently. Research shows that early literacy skills are a key indicator of future academic success in high school and beyond. Children who do not read proficiently by third grade endure long term consequences. Impoverished youth not reading proficiently by the end of third grade are 13x more likely not to graduate high school than their proficient peers from economically stable households.

OUR PROGRAM

Boys & Girls Clubs of Philadelphia started the Literacy Initiative to bridge the educational gap in Philadelphia’s most impoverished neighborhoods. By 2023, this program has reached 15 Clubs in Philadelphia, serving over 1,500 youth annually. Each Literacy Center is staffed with a full-time supervisor trained in an Orton-Gillingham based multi-sensory instruction, which emphasizes Phonemic Awareness, Phonics, Vocabulary, Fluency and Reading Comprehension, the key areas highlighted by the National Reading Panel to support struggling readers. Informed by the Science of Reading, our Literacy Initiative builds these skills through oral language, encoding, decoding, and structured reading and writing activities. By teaching through the intellect and fostering positive literacy experiences for youth, we transform struggling students into confident, independent readers and writers.

MULTI-SENSORY APPROACH

Up to 2 out of 3 children learn best in a multi-sensory approach. Multi-sensory approaches integrate auditory, visual, and kinesthetic learning modalities into each step of the process, enabling all children to learn effectively.

Multi-sensory approach to learning	Traditional (Linear) approach to learning
Uses multiple pathways to encode information into long-term memory	Uses single pathway, building short term memorization and retention
Utilizes a hands-on approach that enables students to strengthen pathways in their brains that connect the visual, auditory and kinesthetic components of language	Learning take place on a prescribed path, relying heavily on rote memorization. Students learn skills in isolation focusing on one sensory pathway at a time

Sector Benchmark Data

Program Name	Efficacy Rate	Cost Per Outcome
Lit U.S.: A Call to Action Literacy Initiative	99%	$497
Impact Genome Benchmark* for this Outcome	70% - 80%	$1,988 - $3,433

OUR OUTCOMES

We use the DIBELS (Dynamic Indicators of Basic Early Literacy Skills) assessment to track our youths’ progress. This assessment, designed by the University of Oregon and administered in school districts nation-wide, is designed to assess students’ baseline skills and growth. During the 2024-25 school year, 99.8% of participants increased their DIBELS scores, with 48% increasing a benchmark level or ending the year at or above grade-level benchmark. In early 2025 for the second year in a row, a third-party evaluation by Impact Genome rated our program as having a 99% efficacy rating with extensive supporting evidence and a cost-per-outcome that is less than 25% of the cost of similar programs.

The 25th Anniversary Eluminary Circle

As we celebrate 25 years, Eluna extends its heartfelt gratitude to the Philadelphia business community and its leaders who have stood beside us since our arrival in Philadelphia nearly 15 years ago. Whether through support of fundraisers like Champions for Children or volunteering at Camp Erin and Camp Mariposa, your generosity, commitment, and steadfast support have positively transformed the lives of so many children, teens, and families impacted by grief or addiction.

Thank you Philadelphia and here's to the next 25 years of serving our community!

ABOUT

Girl Scouts of Eastern Pennsylvania (GSEP) serves more than 25,000 girls, ages 5-18 in Berks, Bucks, Carbon, Chester, Delaware, Lehigh, Montgomery, Northampton, and Philadelphia counties. We are a volunteer-based nonprofit organization with more than 14,000 adult volunteers. Nationally, nearly 2.8 million girls and adult volunteers enjoy the Girl Scout experience.

Help Support the Future of Leadership!

Since 1912, Girl Scouts has been on a mission to build girls of courage, confidence, and character who make the world a better place. Today, we continue to equip girls with essential leadership skills through engaging, hands-on experiences that inspire personal growth and community impact.

When girls participate in Girl Scouts, they encounter new experiences, connect with peers from diverse backgrounds, and take meaningful action to create change. They learn to embrace their strengths, act with integrity, and seek out challenges—all while developing healthy relationships and problem-solving skills.

When girls participate in Girl Scouts, they develop 5 leadership outcomes:

Strong Sense of Self

Girls have confidence in themselves and their abilities, and form positive identities.

Healthy Relationships

Girls develop and maintain healthy relationships by communicating their feelings directly and resolving conflicts constructively.

Positive Values

Girls act ethically, honestly, and responsibly, and show concern for others.

Community Problem Solving

Girls desire to contribute to the world in purposeful and meaningful ways, learn how to identify problems in the community, and create “action plans” to solve them.

Challenge Seeking

Girls take appropriate risks, try things even if they might fail, and learn from mistakes.

GSEP is an EITC approved organization!

Make an impact and inspire girl leaders.

3. CITY OF SISTERLY AFFECTION

GSEP increased its presence and impact in Philadelphia by adding 15 new school partner sites, helping to reach the highest number of Philly girls participating in Girl Scouts since 2017 – a 19% increase from 2024.

4. CALLING ALL GIRL BOSSES!

A pilot program success – started in Philly and is growing into Reading and Allentown. Now serving 140 girls working on take action projects to make a change in their community and work toward earning the highest award in Girl Scouts – The Girl Scout Silver and Girl Scout Gold Award.

5. COOKIE CHAMPS

9. FORE!

Golf for Girl Scouts raised the fun...and funds to support girl programming. Golfers teed off at Saucon Valley in September. Visit GSEP.org for updates for our 5th annual outing to be hosted at an area club in fall 2026.

2026 is going to be even better! Want to support GSEP's mission? Email Gina J. Range at grange@gsep.org to get started.

Gratz Creates a Learning Hub for Building Community, Combatting Antisemitism

Gratz College, a field leader in graduate degree-level Jewish Studies, Antisemitism Studies and Holocaust and Genocide Studies, is transforming its new campus into a community learning hub with innovative, supplemental programs for Pennsylvania public school students.

How Do Gratz Programs Impact Public School Students in PA?

Gratz initiatives for public school students draw from Jewish wisdom, history, and culture to foster community and build bridges to combat antisemitism and all forms of hate. Through innovative programs using technology, media, and the arts, students:

Learn Lessons of the Holocaust by participating in the Holocaust Youth Symposium, the Arts Competition, Dimensions in Testimony, and more.

Discover Jewish history through Gratz's interactive digital platform featuring the Elie Wiesel archive, Holocaust testimonials, and Rebecca Gratz letters—resources teachers can use directly in their classrooms.

Earn college credit while in high school with courses in Hebrew, Jewish Studies, Antisemitism Studies, Holocaust, and more.

How Your PA Tax Dollars Can Make a Difference

PA-based businesses and individuals that make a contribution to Gratz through the Pennsylvania Educational Improvement Tax Credit (EITC) program can claim a 90% state income tax credit and a 10% itemized charitable contribution.

For example, a $50,000 contribution to Gratz results in a $45,000 tax credit.

PLUS: this year, EITC donors have a special opportunity to be recognized as "Builders" on Gratz's new campus and can choose from one of many naming opportunities.

A win-win for donors and students!

POSSIBILITY LIVES HERE

CELEBRATING 120 YEARS OF ADVANCING INCLUSION

For more than a century, KenCrest has partnered with children, adults, and families to create opportunities for inclusion and independence across Pennsylvania, Delaware, and Connecticut.

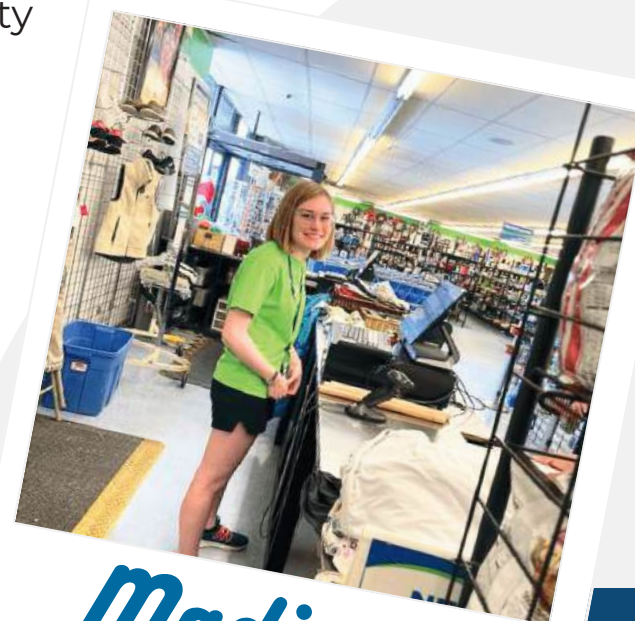

From early learning to adult supports, our mission is rooted in one belief: Every person deserves the opportunity to explore what's possible for their life—and to belong fully in the community they choose.

When Madison connected with KenCrest through Pennsylvania's Office of Vocational Rehabilitation, she had one goal: to get her first job and begin building her future. Together, we explored her strengths—from her creativity in theater and music to her dedication as a student leader. With support from her job coach, she gained confidence, learned new techniques, and soon found success as a cashier at Goodwill.

Today, Madison is thriving—working, contributing, and planning for college to pursue social work.

Her story is not an exception—it's the future we're creating.

One person, one goal, one possibility at a time.

Madison

“EVERYONE DESERVES THE OPPORTUNITY TO SHAPE WHAT’S POSSIBLE FOR THEIR LIFE.”

THE POSSIBILITIES FUND — ADVANCING WHAT COMES NEXT

For 120 years, KenCrest has helped people to build strong communities. Today, the Possibilities Fund continues that legacy—fueling innovation, independence, and inclusion for thousands of children and adults each year.

Public systems fund foundational services. The Possibilities Fund fuels progress.

It ensures that people have not only access to care—but access to growth, connection, and real opportunity.

Your Support Helps:

- Create opportunities for people to participate and belong in community life
- Foster natural community connections and supportive social networks
- Introduce technology that enhances safety, communication, and daily independence
- Expand personalized skill-building and employment exploration
- Support experiences that build confidence, identity, and connection

Why It Matters: Innovation in disability services begins with listening—and investing in what people say they want for their lives. The Possibilities Fund turns unmet needs into real opportunities.

JOIN US IN SHAPING WHAT COMES NEXT. YOUR GENEROSITY ACCELERATES
INDEPENDENCE, INCLUSION, AND REAL OPPORTUNITY.

Our History

In 1963, the Science Center was created to help researchers and entrepreneurs convene, collaborate, and advance science and technology. Connecting academia, industry, and capital, our offerings have evolved over the last 60 years to meet the needs of our community. But our objective has remained constant: to help bright ideas become businesses and nurture a STEM workforce to support our 21st century economy—all while serving as a catalyst for economic growth in our region.

Our Services

The Science Center provides STEM educational experiences and career exposure for Philadelphia youth through our FirstHand program, which also builds their social capital through industry mentorship and internships. We also help startups scale at critical times in their growth through offerings like our Capital Readiness Program and Founder's Fellowships. In addition, we provide technical assistance and market access for entrepreneurs and researchers both locally and throughout the world.

Our Impact on the Community

Science Center programs have supported hundreds of startups and served thousands of students, catalyzing job creation and economic growth. FirstHand boosts STEM competencies and self-efficacy among youth. Our efforts foster equity, empower diverse talent, and strengthen Philadelphia's innovation ecosystem.

Other Ways to Support us

The Science Center currently engages volunteers through two avenues. The first is by serving as mentors with our FirstHand program, who help to design and deliver industry-relevant STEM curricula to the youth we serve. The second opportunity is for subject matter experts to share their knowledge with our founders and startup leaders, and through serving on our advisory councils.
