SOME BONUS TIPS

A FEW INSIGHTS TO HELP YOU PREPARE FOR YOUR DAY

From a filmmaker who loves capturing your story with ease and emotion.

1. CHOOSE PEOPLE YOU CONNECT WITH

Your videographer and photographer will be by your side for most of your wedding day — from the quiet, emotional morning to the joyful chaos of the evening.

It's so important to choose people you truly connect with and feel comfortable around. When you trust the team capturing your day, it shows in every frame.

2. ALIGN YOUR PHOTO AND VIDEO STYLE

When your photo and video styles complement each other, your final gallery and film tell one cohesive story. Matching tones, colors, and artistic vision create a timeless visual harmony between the two mediums.

3. VISIT THE LOCATION TOGETHER

I love meeting couples in person before the big day — ideally at the wedding venue.

It's a lovely chance to get to know each other, walk through the space, and talk about the details of your ceremony.

Many couples haven't worked with a videographer before, so meeting in advance helps you feel more at ease and confident in front of the camera.

It also allows me to plan for the best light, angles, and storytelling flow for your film.
