BEAUTY BEGINS

YOU DECIDE
TO BE YOURSELF.

EDITOR'S NOTE

I can't believe that 2017 is almost over! Where has the time gone? So you know the drill, it's time to transition your wardrobe and start rocking darker colors. It's also boot and coat season, so do invest some time in making sure you make a statement with your cold weather essentials.

Oh! And don't forget about all the end of year events happening soon. I always recommend to my personal clients to think ahead and start planning their holiday event looks at least four weeks out. This will eliminate stressing at the last minute, and who has time for that? Let's bring this year to a close in style!
