OUR PHILOSOPHY

Travel is not just experiences...

travel is a collection of stories.

Stories you can enter and experience. Stories you will treasure and share. The best stories surprise, awe, and delight you.

When you work with us, you benefit from our decades of world travel and decades in the wellness industry.

We love to discover the phenomenal, the remarkable, and the experiences that go beyond what you see in magazines, the internet, or a travel guide.

We're on a mission to define wellness travel beyond the green juice, the massage, and the yoga mat.

Wellness travel is whatever makes you feel more alive — and we're here to do that for you through exceptional travel.

Treat yourself to tailored adventures. And be treated like a star before, during, and after your getaway.

HOW IT WORKS

Consult

We begin with a personal interview to help us understand your wishes for your trip. We become an expert in your passions, tastes, and interests and edit out anything that doesn't have positive resonance. We can consult in English, Spanish, or Italian.

Agreement

Once you've decided we're a good fit, you choose the service level that best suits your needs. Once the agreement is signed and paid, we'll start on your holiday!

Design

Next we work our magic. You get to enjoy the fun parts of planning and leave the details to us. You'll be briefed and involved as much as you'd like.

Reservation

Once the proposal is perfected, we lock it down with a deposit.

Payment terms are dictated by how soon you're leaving and partner or hotel policies.

Anticipation

Anticipation is half the fun! You'll get your itinerary documents and we'll also share unique online resources for you to engage your mind and stimulate your dreams before you leave.

Bon Voyage

Throughout your trip, you'll receive support from us and our partners.

We'll be quietly monitoring along the way to ensure that everything's going well.

Debrief

After you return we'll be in touch to hear all about your adventure and start planning the next one!

F A Q S

F A Q s

Are we a good fit?

The typical Premier Wellness Travel client is curious, educated, and sophisticated. You travel the world and know how to book independently — but you also value your time, energy, and money. You are looking for fresh ideas and love to plan ahead. Because anticipation is half the fun!

Can PWT work with my travel coordinator or an executive assistant?

Absolutely. It is our experience that many of our clients currently have their travel arranged by an aide. We work closely with assistants to set up the principal's profile so we have all the details, preferences, hotel program numbers, and memberships on file. And we add value wherever we can, whether that's adding amenities and upgrades from our elite hotel programs or simply using our buying power to hold private jets on standby for our clients. We are here to preserve your time. And make your travel time full of ease and delight. You can be involved as much or as little as you prefer.

The Rolls Royce of luxury travel. — Jackie

F A Q s

Is travel more expensive now?

Premier Wellness Travel is a boutique travel concierge firm and requires a minimum spend for bespoke planning. Our service levels ensure the highest standard of care and are separate from the cost of your trip. Note that due to high demand and low supply, average post-pandemic travel prices are 20-30 percent higher than in 2019.

Will I pay more if I book through you?

We can almost always match online travel rates. Often, we can offer even better value because of our affiliations. Our itineraries include special discounts we can access, and we love to pass those along to you. That said, we do not price match. We offer value and peace of mind. And that's priceless.

Is travel more complex?

Yes. The industry is experiencing a capacity crunch. Travel now requires more planning and more guidance. When travelers desire more unique experiences and more customer service, travel advisors can help.

F A Q s

Is individual pricing available on proposals?

That depends. If we plan a fully independent trip and assemble all the elements for you, then yes. And this requires more PWT service hours.

Alternatively, we often work with top destination management companies because they have special access. And in that case, we can not provide individual pricing. Consolidating your trip into a package and working with a partner enables us to include (way!) more extras. And our agreements with our partners do not permit us to split out pricing.

Is travel insurance required?

We highly recommend it. Travel insurance protects your investment and safeguards your health while abroad. Anything can happen. And if it does, you will be very glad to have insurance. Otherwise, your dream trip can become a nightmare. Clients who choose not to purchase travel insurance will be asked to sign a waiver.

Incredible. BEYOND. Holy moly! - Sharon

F A Q s

Is my information confidential?

Yes. PWT's founder is an attorney, and attorney-client privilege is a part of our DNA. We want you to know that that commitment to confidentiality continues in our role as your travel concierges. As we come to know you well, we will learn everything from your pillow preference to your favorite wine to your robe size — and we hold all of your information in confidence. We appreciate and value your trust.

Can I use my hotel or credit card points if I book with you?

You are welcome to book with points on your own. If you want a professional's eye on your plans, we recommend you consult with us for our expertise on an hourly basis, as available.

Can you book AirBnDs, VRBOs, home rentals, or villas?

We have an extraordinary roster of luxury rentals and villas all over the globe. We also arrange long-term stays for months at substantially lower negotiated rates. We do not book AirBnBs or VRBOs as we can not vet them, and we don't want you to have any unpleasant surprises.

FAQs :: ABOUT FEES

The travel industry is a quagmire. The puzzle of how fees and costs are set can seem random and obscure. Here we provide transparency on typical questions about fees and costs that come up.

Why do you charge a design fee?

Lawyers charge for their counsel. Financial advisors charge for their advice. Travel advisors are no different. (But our hourly rate is much less!) We save you time and worry. And we provide you access to travel experiences and hotel rates you (or your assistant) can not find on the internet. Your holiday is a significant investment of your time (a non-renewable asset) and money. Our hearts are invested in ensuring you have a great holiday, too!

Don't you also earn a commission on bookings?

Yes - sometimes. The commissions range from nothing to 20%. The commission schedules do not affect our recommendations or itinerary designs. Honestly, 99% of the time, we don't even know the commission or if there is one until the trip is entered into our tracking spreadsheet.

Our loyalty is to our clients, and our only goal is to ensure you are delighted. We take care of you and put your interests first and foremost. That's why you hire us.

How does it work exactly?

We spend an average of 20-40 hours planning a typical 7-14 day holiday. The pandemic has increased that because, on average, what used to take one call or email now takes four. Every person I contact is swamped and understaffed. The time needed reflects the stress on the travel industry. Staffing levels will not be back to normal until at least 2025.

Other factors that can affect how much time we spend include whether we work with a destination management company (DMC) or if the trip is fully independent. Working with these partners offers three benefits -

- more profound and broader expertise in the specific destinations,
- access to unique experiences, and
- in-time-zone contact and support.

We also design fully independent trips (FITs) where we craft each component.

These trips are best for seasoned travelers who

- know exactly what they want to do and
- where they want to stay, and
- don't wish to do many tours.
