GARRETT GRAVESEN

"A bold perspective on Courageous Leadership from traveling to all 197 countries."

Growth doesn't wait for certainty – *it demands courage.

Garrett has traveled to all 197 countries and is the author of 10 Seconds of Insane Courage. After losing his father to cancer, he committed to 100 bold goals - a journey that reshaped his view on leadership, legacy, and impact.

He co-founded ADDO Worldwide, which helped develop Chick-fil-A Leader Academy, and launched The Dash Project at Harvard Business School, inspiring leaders to live fully and lead boldly.

Garrett speaks with courageous companies, industry associations, and leadership summits across retail, hospitality, sports, entertainment, restaurant, and consumer brands. His high-energy keynotes reveal what the world's best leaders do differently - empowering teams to embrace bold goals, ignite action, and create exponential growth.
