INJECTABLES

TOXINS

▶ DYSPORE

$4.67 per unit

$4.25 per unit as an Injectable VIP Member

Dysport is a neuromodulator injectable that relaxes muscles, prevents dynamic facial movements, and helps smooth fine lines and wrinkles. Dysport takes effect 3-5 days after injection and works little by little each day until full effect, around day 14. Dysport tends to give a more natural-looking result, meaning there is still some movement post-injection without forming dynamic wrinkles. Dysport lasts about 3-4 months.

▶ BOTOX

$14 per unit

$12.75 per unit as an Injectable Member

Botox is a neuromodulator injectable that relaxes muscles, prevents dynamic facial movements, and helps smooth fine lines and wrinkles. Botox takes effect 4-5 days after injection and works little by little each day until full effect, around day 14. Botox tends to give a stiffer, "frozen" effect, meaning there is little to no movement in the treated areas post-injection. Botox lasts about 3-4 months.

SKINCARE & LASER TREATMENTS

► BBL

Broadband light therapy (BBL) is an advanced photo-rejuvenation treatment used in dermatology and cosmetic medicine. This treatment utilizes intense pulsed light (IPL) to target various skin concerns and imperfections. It's often used to improve the appearance and health of the skin, primarily on the face, neck, chest, and hands. BBL is great for lightening sunspots, age spots, sun damage, and rosacea. This is a fantastic maintenance treatment for the skin, as the results improve over time. It is recommended once monthly in a series of four.

► MOXI FRACTIONATED LASER

The Moxi laser is great for skin rejuvenation and addresses common skin concerns, such as pigmentation irregularities, melanoma, sun damage, fine lines, and overall skin texture improvement. Moxi uses fractional non-ablative laser technology. This means that it can target small areas of the skin without causing extensive damage to the surface, allowing for quicker recovery and reduced downtime. Moxi's laser energy can stimulate collagen production, leading to a more youthful appearance. One of the advantages of Moxi is that it typically involves minimal downtime compared to more aggressive laser treatments. Patients can often resume their regular activities shortly after the procedure. Moxi can be used on various body areas and is suitable for all skin types.

SKINCARE & LASER TREATMENTS CONT'D

► MICRONEEDLING

Using a regenerative technique, Microneedling, called collagen induction therapy, enhances facial skin complexion and elasticity. Microneedling is a rejuvenating procedure in which a needling device (SkinPen) with a tip of very small needles causes micro-perforations in the skin to initiate a trauma response safely and effectively. Your immune system will initiate a healing response and send fighter cells to repair the micro-perforated areas. In return, you'll naturally receive a surge of new cells generated by the immune response. These cells replace older damaged cells and force exfoliation of those older cells so the new cells can emit fresh, glowing skin. Treatments can be repeated once every four weeks.

► MICRONEEDLING WITH PRP

You can use microneedling with your plasma (PRP) and receive an even more significant surge of cellular regeneration. Your PRP contains growth factors similar to stem cells responsible for communicating with other cells to form, grow, and regenerate. When combined with microneedling, these growth factors significantly diminish wrinkles and revitalize a healthy glow to dull skin. This treatment will soften fine lines and wrinkles on several areas of your face and help keep your skin tighter and more elastic. To obtain your PRP, we draw a small blood sample from your arm while in the office and spin it in a centrifuge to separate the plasma (PRP) cells from your red blood cells. The plasma cells are then applied topically to your skin. The repair process begins and triggers your immune system to increase blood flow and make new tissue. The micro-wounds are rebuilt with new granulation cells and are regenerated with new dermal tissues, resulting in a rejuvenated, radiant appearance. Treatments can be repeated once every four weeks.

► THE BIOREPEEL

The newest and most innovative professional peel on the market is the BioRePeel Blue. This treatment works by dissolving the bond between cells to gently remove the top layer of skin, which sheds older dead layers of skin deep from within. New, fresh, glowing skin is revealed. Collagen, elastin, and fibroblast cells are also stimulated during this process. This peel's principal active ingredient is trichloroacetic acid (TCA 35%), a medium-depth peeling agent. This peel contains salicylic, tartaric, vitamin C, amino acids, and vitamin b2. All of these, in combination, effectively stimulate new skin growth, mitigate UV damage, fade scarring, diminish fine lines and wrinkles, and slow the process of aging. This peel is impressive as it provides immediate results safely and with little downtime. This peel is suitable for all skin types, improves acne/facial scarring, shrinks pores, provides a brighter complexion, and improves pigment; it is excellent for use on the face, neck, décolletage, hands, feet, underarms, and other parts of the body, improves skin texture, targets aging by softening lines, adds turgidity of the skin, and can be performed year-round.
