Volatile and unpredictable international market forces can often cause drastic pricing fluctuations at any moment in the course of the season. While we work hard to establish pricing that will take such fluctuations into consideration, we still often find ourselves having to adjust to factors that are well beyond our control. For that reason, please note that the pricing set forth herein is subject to change with or without prior notice. This includes orders already received and entered into our system. By submitting an order to us, you expressly agree to accept any such future change. We hereby expressly reserve, on behalf of ourselves and any and all of our licensors, all rights to all trademarks and copyright-protectable works ("IP") contained in this catalog. Use of any IP without our express written consent is strictly prohibited.
