hello there!

Thank you for considering the CLP Corporate Branding Experience. In today's competitive market, having a collection of high-quality images for your business is the most powerful way to elevate your brand, attract your ideal client, and set your company apart from the competition.

I will work with you to plan and prepare for your session. Everything is better if it's better from the start, so you will want to prepare your team to be ready for picture day. Your session will include wardrobe guidance, recommendations for my favorite hair and makeup artists, a pre-session phone consultation, and guided posing during your session.

Rest assured, with over a decade of portrait photography experience and a satisfied client base, you can feel confident that you are in excellent hands. Let's elevate your brand together! Thank you!

Kindly,

Christine
