

Laurel Avenue POWDER ROOM

LISA OBERST DESIGN

The powder room embraces a darker, moodier palette, creating a moment of classic drama within the home. At its center sits a custom scalloped marble sink, perched atop a brass base with exposed brass plumbing that lends an elegant, traditional finish. The walls are wrapped in a sophisticated Phillip Jeffries houndstooth wallpaper, complemented by tailored wall paneling that adds depth and architectural interest. Though compact in size, the space feels richly layered and timeless...an intimate jewel box designed to leave a lasting impression.
