RECOMMENDED PODCAST QUESTIONS

- ✓ In your testimony, "From Rejected to Redeemed" you share the process that took place as you discovered the truth. Will you elaborate for us?
- ✓ Have you always freely shared your adoption story/journey?
- ✓ During your reunion process, you indicate your automated response was always, "I'm Okay!" Why was that your go-to phrase and what did you learn about yourself as you relied on saying you were okay?
- ✓ How has your journey impacted your role as an advocate?
- ✓ How have you been strengthened by God's word during your adoption and reunion process?
- ✓ What role has prayer played on your journey to wholeness and healing?
- ✓ Please share the importance of community as it relates to the adult adoptee.

Iris Peterson Bryant is a writer, speaker, educator, podcast host, and worship leader. She and her husband are the parents of four children (two young adults and two teens) and one grandchild. She has served as an educator in the public schools of North Carolina since 1998.

In addition to serving as the chief encouragement officer for those who follow her on social media. She also co-authored the book, How I Got Over, with four other inspiring women. She loves coffee, milk chocolate, and watching the sunrise, preferably at the beach!

She firmly believes in God's promise found in Romans 8:28, and she desires to help others believe and apply that truth to their lives. She desires to help women maximize each moment and season they encounter and show them God doesn't waste any of our experiences--whether good or bad.

Iris and her husband, David, reside in eastern North Carolina.
