

FRESH VALLEY — FARMS —

For those who want the natural world to be an integral part of their love story, we offer sustainable weddings.

Our venue is a real working organic farm, dedicated to biodiversity and the protection of the natural environment.

Nestled in the farming community of Spallumcheen, just outside of Armstrong, our historic guest house overlooks a pastoral patchwork of ranches, dairy farms, and the picturesque fields of the North Okanagan.

When hosting your wedding with us you are supporting the growth of an ecological family farm deeply rooted in it's community. We are pleased to provide vendor recommendations for local flowers, farm-to-table catering, and more.

What this organic farm venue offers:

Ample space to spread out on this lush and abundant site.

A beautiful, historic, and comfortable guesthouse that can accommodate up to 20 guests for relaxing preparation and wind-down.

Choice of landscaped historical home backdrop or a natural forest backdrop for ceremonies.

Meet Kasha

I am a professional wedding and event planner based in Kelowna, BC. The Okanagan is where I call home, but I will follow you wherever you choose to say "I do"!

Creating authentic love stories and one-of-a-kind romances is not only a beautiful career, but a true passion of mine. I love working with people, especially those who I can serve and support. Those special, once in a lifetime occasions should be celebrated! I am here to bring those magical and precious moments to life so you can enjoy them and have fond memories to look back on.

Meet Annelise

I'm Annelise, a third-generation farmer lucky enough to live and work on the land with my partner in life (and in business) and our two curious farm-kids. Our days are filled with soil, work, and a lot of love; for food, nature, and community.

I believe that the beauty and simplicity of the farm create the perfect backdrop for truly meaningful celebrations, and we would be honoured to be part of your story.
