frequently asked questions

is travel outside the USA included in pricing?

Not on this pricing guide, BUT when you send an inquiry, put as much detail as possible so I can get a custom quote prepared for you.

do you shoot digital or film? are you comfortable with low light?

I shoot both! I love to mix in both mediums and YES I get super giddy when I get to use flash. I don't bring annoying light stands that blind all of your guests. I like to keep it pretty minimal and keep the natural mood.

do you ever offer discount?

No. My cost of doing business only goes up throughout the years and I would be de-valuing my art, career, and myself by offering discounts. The only time I offer any type of discount is if you marry in a location on my travel bucket list.

how would you describe your style of photography?

Documentary style and lots of candid.

Time to make it official! You'll sign an agreement and pay $2000 of the total package chosen to hold your date in my calendar.

Soon after you're booked, I send over a questionnaire that is full of questions related to your wedding day and you both as a couple. These answers will give me what I need to recommend locations, lodging, things to do, vendors, and other information to help guide you to have the best day ever.

a little love letter from lo

I've been doing this for seven years full time now and still do a happy dance with every inquiry that lands in my email. I am absolutely stoked and grateful that you reached out and thought about me photographing such a rad chapter of your life. Seriously hope we can work together, party together, and create some really fucking amazing memories for you and your babe to enjoy forever ever!
