THE VIBE

SCANDINAVIAN

hygge

An abundance of natural light and calming neutral palette

This Scandinavian-style home, clad in charred Siberian larch (Shou Sugi Ban), is set on a peaceful 1/3-acre plot with views of the Shropshire Hills. The light-filled interiors feature a serene neutral palette, natural textures, and large picture windows framing the countryside. Architectural highlights include a striking double-height entrance with a bespoke staircase and an oversized black oak door, complemented by a gable elevation with metal-framed windows. Outside, the property offers a wooded front, spacious gardens with a decked area and a small pond
