

Kelli and Mohamed

ATLANTA, GEORGIA

Kelli and Mohamed's love story begins at the University of Georgia where they met. The couple dated for one year prior to graduation and continued the courtship as a long distance relationship. During the sixth year, Mohamed was ready to take their relationship to the next level.

While vacationing in New York, they both decided to sightsee, see a show and take advantage of "Restaurant Week". Mohamed included a helicopter tour of New York City, which was unusual because he is a more "go with the flow" kind of guy. Their plans for the last day included a tour of the World Trade Center prior to the helicopter tour.

The helicopter made Kelli queasy; so she motioned to Mohamed that she wasn't feeling well. Looking out the window helped to keep her calm and as they were circling back Kelli was "thanking God for allowing this to end," when all of a sudden Mohamed nudged her, and in his hand was a ring. Mohamed says this was no easy feat because he had picked the tightest security point in the city. Luckily, the ring and ring box, hidden in his shoe, wasn't detected by the metal detectors or security. So while they were descending around the Statue of Liberty with Kelli looking out of the window, Mohamed smoothly grabbed the ring; and the rest is history!

The couple wanted a "Fancy and Fun" wedding day at the Biltmore's Georgian and Imperial Ballrooms, which was a blend of their personalities. They really wanted their guests to feel hand-picked and to enjoy their wedding as much as a romantic night out; therefore they insisted on live music for the cocktail hour, a seated dinner, and an open bar.

Kelli and Mohamed have fun memories that will last forever. The most unexpected moment came when Kelli was to be escorted by her mom, but she completely forgot to wait for her and dashed down the aisle! Other special memories include taking pictures with their dog, who is a loved member of their family. But more than anything else, remembering their first dance will always be golden since it was the first time they were able to breathe a bit and enjoy each other as husband and wife; especially since the wedding vocalist made them feel like they were the only ones in the ballroom.

The loving couple began their lives together honeymooning in Turks and Caicos.
