SCHOOL PHILOSOPHY

School of Natural Medicine was founded in 2007 on the principles of pure Naturopathy, which incorporates a holistic approach to the treatment and prevention of mind-body imbalances that lead to disease.

We seek to educate students in an authentic system of natural medicine that can be traced to the teachings of Stoicism in ancient Greece, and that was incorporated into a system of medicine by Hippocrates, widely regarded as the father of modern medicine.

The first principle of Natural Medicine, as stated in the Hippocratic Oath, is 'Do No Harm.'

This core foundation is integrated with advances in the fields of nutrition, psychoneuroimmunology, heart-brain coherence, epigenetics, phytochemical research, and holistic anatomy and physiology.

Our Naturopathy Diploma programme is in alignment with the World Health Organisation definition and guidelines for Naturopaths; a definition that was created through the contributions of more than 274 reviewers, including experts and national authorities, as well as professionals and nongovernmental agencies.

Although there are schools that medicalise Naturopathy, in order to gain funding from supplement and product companies, the School of Natural Medicine is committed to teaching pure Naturopathy, without affiliation with special interests.

Naturopathy is a profession that is practiced throughout the world, with Eastern and Western Europe, Scandinavia, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, Canada, Russia, India and the United States having the highest numbers of practicing naturopaths.

Naturopathy is classified as a traditional medicine and has evolved, since ancient times, as a deeply rooted part of European natural medicinal systems.

From Europe, Naturopathy has found its way, with the founding fathers of the United States and the Commonwealth, to all parts of the world settled or governed by those of European descent.

Naturopathy is a discipline of accumulated knowledge of effective natural therapies, diet, herbs and lifestyle in practice, and does not have a single originator. It is a part of our heritage.

We invite you to join us on one of our certification or diploma courses, and begin your journey toward creating a life out of what you love.

harvesting herbs, creating products, creating or working for ethical natural product companies, spas, health food stores or clinics, running booths at festivals and fairs, teaching your own courses and workshops, or combining naturopathy and herbal medicine with other therapeutic modalities, students turn what they love into a life they love to live!

Our master teacher, Bonny Casel ND MAMH, studied herbal medicine with Dr. John Christopher, Iridology and Nutrition with Dr. Bernard Jensen, Herbal Medicine, Naturopathy, and Iridology with Farida Sharan ND, epigenetic with Bruce Lipton and Quantum Physics with Nassim Haramein.

If you wish to create your own naturopathic practice, create naturopathic and/or herbal products, import or export individual herbs or herbal formula, heal yourself, family and/or friends, or integrate naturopathy and herbal medicine with other modalities in a clinical setting, this course will remain a wealth of knowledge, wisdom and inspiration for years to come.

HERBAL MEDICINE IMMERSION

The Herbal Medicine Immersion focuses on the core practice, consultation and programme creation skills required for effective practice.

Consultation skills are developed in alignment with a core principle of natural medicine; Doctor as Teacher, thus training students how to establish a genuinely holistic patientpractitioner relationship.

Practice and Pharmacy administration protocols and development are also explored, with the opportunity for students to refine their vision for their future practice.

Knowledge of the medicinal and nutritive properties of herbs in clinical practice is grounded alongside systemic anatomy and physiology, diet, lifestyle and supportive therapies, so that students approach programme creation holistically and within the context of the unique lives of their clients.

IRIDOLOGY STUDIES

Iridology is a form of analysis that examines the iris structure, iris markings and colours, and what is known as 'iris constitutional type,' to determine ageing pathways in the body.

Iridology does not diagnose disease, in the contemporary medical sense. What is does do is more meaningful as it shows you how to not become ill in the first place, how you are likely to develop disease if your lifestyle, diet and other influences play into your inherent weaknesses and, if you are ill, shows where to focus treatment to best support your own body's capacity to heal.

Through studying the iris, an Iridologist determines the inherent strength of each body system, current level of toxicity and stress in body tissues and, combined with a thorough understanding of holistic anatomy and physiology, and a detailed case history, identifies the system, organ and gland weakness pattern that manifests as your individual pathway to disease.

This information is used to guide preventative and self healing programmes that incorporate education, purification, regeneration and preventative care.

Iridology also provides a uniquely effective way to explore the interior world of body, mind and emotions, along with their dynamic relationships; relationships that are at the core of psychoneuroimmunology. Traditional medicine has long recognised the relationship between emotional and mental states, and physical health and wellbeing. The modern medical model is also beginning to acknowledge mind-body dynamics, prompted by scientists such as Candace Pert, who discovered the link between emotions and cellular/molecular function.

Iridology can identify emotional and mental tendencies and their physical manifestations as a cohesive whole, so practitioners of holistic medicine are increasingly drawn to this valuable too for investigating the continuum of client health on all levels.

School of Natural Medicine offers one of the most comprehensive Iridology course in the world. Written by Farida Sharan ND, a leading pioneer of Iridology and author of the classic textbook 'Iridology - A Complete Guide,' 'Dictionary of Iridology,' and 'Iridology Colouring Book,' this course will provide you with the knowledge needed to create effective holistic health programmes.

NATUROPATHY & IRIDOLOGY IMMERSION

Learn the fundamental principles of Iridology and Naturopathy as they apply to self care, self healing and clinical practice, develop consultation skills and explore the profound visual language of the iris.

This 5 day Immersion integrates the philosophy and practice of traditional Naturopathy, with current understanding of holistic systemic anatomy and physiology, how the body develops acute and chronic disease and the role that the eliminative channels play in increasing health and vitality.

Iridology studies begin with iris structure, markings, body systems, eliminative channels and in-depth exploration of constitutional types.

Iris presentation of mind-body dynamics and inherent pathways to health and disease are considered in the context of psychoneuroimmunology and systemic mindbody healing.

Naturopathic therapies are introduced to support elimination, relieve detox symptoms, increase strength and vitality, support constitutional strengths and weakness and balance elemental energetics.

QUANTUM BOTANICALS AND FLOWER ESSENCES IMMERSION

This immersion focuses on plant based vibrational medicine. Studies begin with the fundamentals of 'What is Matter?', 'What is Health?' and 'What is Cure?' leading to an exploration of the science that underpins vibrational medicine.

Within the context of current understanding of energy, space, matter, organised energy fields, and the fractal nature of body, mind and emotions, students learn how the interconnectedness of mind and body can be harnessed to support self healing and evolution of consciousness.

Through lectures and experiential classes, students explore the world of plants, both physically and vibrationally, with reference to studies of plant consciousness, plant senses, the 12 Windows of Perception and human-plant resonance, leading to study of flower essences, felt sense, heart-brain coherence, brain hemisphere processing, the language of feeling and emotions, and the relationship between mental and emotional states, health and disease. The study of flower essences is structured around the 38 Bach Flower Remedies as we learn about the 12 Healers (core personality types), the 12 Helpers (for when the core personality is obscured by long-term disassociation or environmental influences) and the 19 Situational Remedies (for current internal and/or external stresses and influences).

Other flower essences systems are introduced and students are invited to explore their resonance with a range of essence producers including Flower Essences Services (FES) remedies, Icelandic Nature Essences, Alaskan Essences and others.

Every topic is fully integrated with the next, so that all topics are understood as a whole with a focus on developing therapeutic skills and creating effective programs, so that this knowledge can be used effectively in practice.

ESSENTIAL OILS AND HEALING TOUCH IMMERSION

Essential Oils are plant medicines that have a unique resonance with the emotional body. Their complex chemistry and high frequency has a direct effect on cellular and DNA memory, permanently releasing trauma while increasing oxygenation to the pineal and pituitary glands.

Essential oils also support healthy functioning of the endocrine, immune, nervous, respiratory, circulatory and digestive systems, are naturally anti-bacterial, anti-viral and potently antiinflammatory, increase focus and memory, increase right-hemisphere processing of life experience, increase coherence between mind and body and are effective anti- depressants and mood elevators. Their therapeutic benefits are enhanced by the beauty that they bring to day to day life.

The Essential Oils and Healing Touch Immersion focuses on experiential healing processes that combine essential oils with techniques to balance sympathetic and parasympathetic nervous system function and heart-brain coherence, allowing for deeper connection and receptivity to self healing.

Healing processes shift to the study of Reflexology; a gentle format for exploring a range of healing touches and developing skills to bring clients into a deep state of relaxation where they are exceptionally open to the shifts in fractal progression offered by essential oils.

ARE THE DIPLOMA COURSES ACCREDITED?

Each of our courses are accredited and you can view details of accreditation on our website by following this link.

ARE THE DIPLOMA COURSES ACCREDITED INTERNATIONALLY?

Each country has its own requirements and there is no accreditation available that is 'international.'

Most countries do not regulate the practice of natural medicine as long as you are not diagnosing and treating disease, and you can freely practice without requiring board examinations or professional memberships, although we do encourage graduates to join professional bodies.

Some countries do require an examination in their own language, for example in Germany there is an examination required for all practitioners who make health recommendations, regardless of your qualifications.

Each graduate must educate themselves about the requirements in their own country and abide by them. School of Natural Medicine graduates practice all over the world and we have never had a graduate who has been unable to practice and/or teach in their home country.

WILL I BE ABLE TO OBTAIN PRACTICE INSURANCE UPON GRADUATION?

School of Natural Medicine graduates can obtain block insurance from Balens or Westminster Insurance Company in the UK or with an insurance company in your own country. Professional memberships also frequently offer reduced fee insurance options.
