HEATHER & DUSTIN

Married and celebrated: PRIVATE ESTATE IN HILLSBOROUGH Date: OCTOBER 20, 2018

Taking the reins when it came time to plan her wedding was instinctual for Heather Ferrari since she's a professional wedding and event planner for the firm All Set. However, she wanted Dustin Barnett to have a say in the look and feel of the big day. Being so in favor of autumn that he even has an "underground hook-up" on a pumpkin spice latte year-round, he selected October as their wedding month. Heather complemented the warm tones of the season with lush hues of merlot, mulberry, copper and soft pinks for a feminine touch. ♣ Wherever one turned at the wedding, they were looking at a reflection of the bride and groom, from the custom cocktails by their favorite San Francisco bar (which were renamed to pay homage to their favorite TV series) to the hand-cut block ice cubes brass-stamped with their wedding logo, a custom drawing of a Mother Buffalo (a nod to the two bars where Dustin and Heather first met). The vibrant reception featured douses of color, ribbon installations, baristas, a silent disco, neon signs and a fleet of food trucks. Their custom dance floor, where they shared their first dance to John Legend's "So High," featured all the names of their guests and loved ones who had passed on. The song had special meaning as the melody was also stuck in Dustin's head during their first date. Recalling the dance, Heather said it made her feel like she was on an island with the love of her life, "It was so surreal. I could feel the warmth from everyone who represented every era of our lives."
