

Erin Winn & Robert Blackadar

5 September 2021 Atlanta, Georgia PHOTOGRAPHER Kim Hymes Photography

Erin Winn and Robert Blackadar were married on September 5, 2021, at the Fernbank Museum of Natural History in Atlanta, Georgia. Robert and Erin met at a weekend cabin gathering with mutual friends and their furry four-legged friends. Robert, playing it smart, took an interest in Erin's adorable dog, Izzy, who took an immediate liking to Robert. Following Izzy's approval, Erin and Robert marked their first official date over margaritas and guacamole. After a two-year long-distance romance, Robert proposed at Erin's childhood home on Thanksgiving weekend. The bridal party's wedding day activities began at the Georgian Terrace Hotel, getting ready for the nuptials and later posing in front of the dinosaurs at the museum. The photographer, Kim Hymes, also captured Erin and Robert's first look, which of course, included Izzy. The bride wore a Kelly Faetanini gown and walked down the aisle to fresh rose petals covering the floor while her soon-to-be groom adoringly awaited her. The couple opted for timeless, classic decor and florals from Marigold and Moss. Along with loving friends and family, Erin and Robert danced the evening away among dinosaur bones and a live animal exhibit. The newlyweds honeymooned in Mexico and topped off the year with a Brave's World Series championship game.
