Starting out by telling the story of Army Soldiers, I began documenting and telling different journeys of Soldiers in the US Army. Wanting a more creative outlet, I transitioned into photographing local business owners and their talents. From jewelry, to hair to horses and cats. I would love to be a part of your brand story!

No matter the size of the brand, years in business, or the number of employees, your vision and unique style deserves to shine!

A photograph of four women standing on a rooftop in a city. They are dressed in fashionable, modern clothing. The woman on the far left is wearing a black blazer and skirt, holding a white smartphone to take a selfie. The woman next to her is wearing a white, sequined, feathered top and white pants, looking at her phone. The woman in the center is wearing a white, textured blazer and pants, also looking at her phone. The woman on the far right is wearing a dark green, double-breasted blazer and pants, holding a camera to take a photo. The background shows a cityscape with tall buildings and a concrete wall in the foreground.
