PROFILE

Ahimidiwe is the third born of four children in her family.

Ahimidiwe lives in Geita, Tanzania with her family.

Ahimidiwe's father was a businessman with investments in transport and housing. His business however, suffered a setback and the family lost everything but the house they are living in. Even though they have a home the mortgage has been difficult to meet.

Ahimidiwe's father has long felt the call into ministry and then the loss of wealth came he took it as an opportunity to attend Yesu Akwagala Bible College.

Ahimidiwe's father has been concerned for her education as she has been out of school for two consecutive years due to strict laws in Tanzania. In Tanzania the laws restrict children from switching between private school and public school. Because of this law it is coming at a cost of Ahimidiwe's education.

HIGHLIGHTS

Ahimidiwe's hope for the future is to see her tuition met and graduate from high school.
