Education Without Walls is a year-round program designed to help motivated teens achieve academic and personal goals. Education Without Walls students meet weekly with a dedicated mentor throughout the school year. Mentors provide homework help, access to resources, and guidance in navigating life. Students also participate in group outings throughout the year, including the final outing, a backpacking trip over summer break. During the outings students learn communication and leadership skills while developing great friendships. Education Without Walls provides students with all the outdoor equipment, food and transportation needed during the outings. Students must be 13 years of age to participate.

Full Scholarships for students who live below the federal poverty guidelines or are in foster care are available!
