CLASSIC Cocktails

HISTORY -

Cocktails are traditionally thought of as an American innovation, however they were at least partly inspired by British punches, which were big bowls of spirits mixed with fruit juice, spices, and other flavors, consumed in punch houses in the 18th century.

The term cocktail was first seen in a British newspaper printed March of 1798, but the term wasn't really defined as we know it until 1806, when The Balance and Columbian Repository of Hudson, New York pinned the cocktail down to the tradition we follow today:
