

15

PERFECT
LINGERIE STYLES FOR YOUR NEXT BOUDOIR
PHOTO SHOOT

WELCOME!

Hello and nice to meet you! You have just downloaded a very exciting guide that will take you through 15 different boudoir styling ideas for your experience.

The beautiful thing about boudoir is there is no proper outfit.

There is no perfect image and it's not for a specific type of person. You can wear anything from a wedding veil to a white bed sheet. This guide will give you some inspiration.

BONUS: I've put a few of my favorite shopping spots for lingerie at the end. You DEFINITELY want to check these out.

And if you have any questions at all, shoot me an email at:
hello@sommerfineart.com.

ALL PHOTOS USED HAVE BEEN CREATED BY SOMMER FINE ART STUDIO

1. BRIDAL

Congrats on your wedding! A lot of people think bridal boudoir pictures means your veil is the focal point. Not true! There are so many different white pieces you can wear to get the bridal look without any of the cheesiness.

2. BUTTON UP SHIRT

This is one of my favorites! It's so versatile. The button up shirt has a feel of waking up late on a Sunday and tossing on a favorite shirt of your partner's. It can be tame all the way buttoned up or spicy pulling it open, taking it off, or letting it lay so it just barely covers you.

3. CORSET

What ever happened to corsets? I get it, you can't breathe in them, but WOW do they look amazing in photos! They are incredibly flattering on every body type and give a subtle roleplay vibe that can really add dimension to the mood of your shoot.

4. CROP TOP

Some people really love lacy lingerie, some really love casual Friday looks and some love BOTH. The crop top can do wonders for your shape and it is so suggestive. Play around with ones that are loose, tight, cut out in the back, and various lengths. I think you'll find something you really like!

5. FISHNETS

These really work for a specific style and isn't for everyone. It can definitely add some fire to your outfit with the right heels and garter belt, though!

6. GARTER BELTS

Nine out of ten women have no idea how to put these on. This is pretty similar to groomsmen trying to put on a tie at their friend's wedding. Don't worry! We can help! When garter belts are paired with stockings and heels, they can add a few inches to your legs and make you look longer/taller.

7. HEELS

A classic. Heels do so many things. They make your legs look longer, tone your calves, help your posture, and add an extra layer of sex appeal to almost any lingerie outfit. Even if casual is your thing, I still recommend bringing at least one pair.

8. HALTER BRA

These usually come with a beautiful pattern all the way up to your neckline. This is perfect if you are looking for something more modest, yet still captivating.

9. HIGH WAISTED

Everything old is new again. High waisted bottoms were popular back in the 70s, but they look SO amazing in pictures! They have a way of slimming the stomach (and hiding it, if that's a stressor) and the cheekie bottoms create an amazing curvature on your bum that will really highlight your assets.

10. ROBES

It can be hard to style an outfit that isn't just a bra and panties. Robes can give the idea of lounging around the house. They can be playful by slipping off the shoulders or worn without a bra underneath to add something more for the imagination.

11. STOCKINGS

Stockings, heels, garter belt... they all add up to the same thing. I try to do at least one outfit ever session that is dressed to the nines. Feel free to get something outside of the standard black. Get something with a tiny pattern on it or something with a design over the thigh. Be careful to size appropriately - if you get a set too small, they can squeeze your thighs and struggle to stay up where they're meant to be.

12. BODY STOCKINGS

Body stockings are beautiful for those that want to show off the silhouette of your body shape! They are often sheer and very form fitting, so if you want to showcase your body without being totally naked then this one is for you!

13. ONE PIECE TEDDY

Otherwise known as a bodysuit. This is one of my favorite kinds of lingerie to photograph. Bodysuits and teddies are easily the most underrated lingerie there is. They are incredibly flattering on ALL body types. There are a million different designs for how it covers you and is more versatile than you would think. I have so many favorite examples that I couldn't fit them on one page!

14. JUST A SHEET

This is such a favorite of so many women because it is the ultimate "leave a little to the imagination" option. You can appear completely naked while revealing less than most pictures in typical lingerie. The white sheet is usually the final "outfit" and it ends your album with a bang!

15. JEWELRY

I believe that YOU are the most important thing in these photos and too many accessories can be a distraction. This is why you won't see many images from me that incorporate clunky or overpowering pieces. That said, some things can really bring an outfit together. Feel free to bring necklaces, bracelets or body jewelry you think would add to your images.

LET'S SHOP!

If you want to have some fun and get something new for your shoot, here are a few of my favorite shops for getting GORGEOUS lingerie! Remember this shoot is about YOU and not about your lingerie, but a new piece can be a great confidence boost!

Adore Me

A new favorite, this store has a little bit of everything and is beautifully classy. They are affordable and have so many things!

Yandy.

This online boutique has pretty everything you can imagine. The quality is a little lower, but this budget friendly option still photographs beautifully.

Philocaly Lingerie Boutique

If you live in the area where my studio is located (Tri-Cities, Washington), then definitely check out this locally owned lingerie boutique! They have gorgeous french inspired lingerie and are knowledgeable in all things lingerie and sizing!

LET'S SHOP!

Here are a few of my favorite shops for getting GORGEOUS lingerie!

Savage X Fenty By Rihanna

Another of my favorites! They have trendy and stunning pieces for both men and women, and so very affordable. You will easily find pieces that are just to die for!

Honey Birdette

Honey Birdette is known for being one of the sexiest boutiques in the industry. They're easily one of the higher end lingerie sources out there. They also have shops where you can see pieces in person.

Thistle And Spire

Thistle and Spire is an incredible brand of lingerie that caters to all sizes of people and have a more minimalist design, but still pack a hell of a punch in their designs and photographs beautifully!

MEET YOUR PHOTOGRAPHER

TAYLOR SOMMER OWNER

Hi, my name is Taylor and my goal is to raise the vibrational level of self-love and confidence of everyone one photograph at a time. As a professional confidence dealer and wedgie-giver, I want each person that walks into my studio to leave feeling more powerful, capable and remembering how beautiful both their soul and their body is. Whether I play a big role or a small role in your self-love journey, it is my duty to help guide you to the incredible power you already own!

S O M M E R

FINE ART STUDIO

WWW.SOMMERFINEART.COM

HELLO@SOMMERFINEART.COM

(509) 492-2040

Come Hang Out With Us On Social!

