Trauma-informed embodiment + self-love coach for women who are ready to rid their lives of mediocrity + step into their divine feminine magic.

I'M READY TO RADICALLY UPLEVEL MY REALITY

Hello Beautiful!

I DARE YOU TO STOP MAKING SPACE FOR LACKLUSTER IN YOUR LIFE

(You were meant for so much more)

Let me know if this resonates with you...

- Friends/family would describe you as a highly sensitive, intuitive, sometimes inward but passionate, caring, and thoughtful/smart, nonetheless woman with so much to offer.
- Right now, you live a life centered around supporting others.
- So naturally, "luxuries" like self-care and inner work are not really in the picture.
- Which has, over time, left you feeling depleted. Drained. And, to be honest, just done.
- At the same time, you're struggling to carry the increasingly heavy emotional baggage/trauma you've been so skillfully avoiding all the while.
- But you care a lot about your people. And recently, something has shifted. You've realized that those flight attendants have been right all along—If you don't put on your own oxygen mask first before securing others'...no one makes it out unscathed.
- So, while you're not exactly sure how you'll finally break free (free of sabotaging thoughts, free of physical aches and pains, free of societal rules and standards, and free of loneliness)... You know starting your healing journey, finding your community, and tuning into your divine feminine magic is the only way to live the abundant, soul-led life you were destined for.

*I see you..
I stand for you.*

And if you're still waiting for a sign to act...

Well, love, this is it.

*Welcome!
I'm*
