

The WildBunch adventurous wedding & elopement packages.

Let's let your love run wild & document every magical intimate moment.

We are here to help you create a unique to you, completely stress free, romantic, and fun day catered to the two of you and your love story. And then we capture the entire thing with incredible photos. Documented in a way that feels real and genuine.

Why the WildBunch

✦ The truth is, you have tons of options when it comes to amazing elopement photographers. There are plenty of incredible people out there with different prices, styles, personalities, levels of experience and all the other stuff that makes every photographer different.

You choose TheWildBunch because at our core, we truly want to connect with our couples to document the absolute best moments for you. After your wedding or elopement, when the high from the adventure is gone, the seasons has changed and your back home, your pictures will remain to tell the story of your perfect day.

The last piece of tangible evidence of the best day of your life, and we want them to be unforgettable. We want your photographs to become keepsakes, passed down from generation to generation. We want your mom, grandmother, aunt and cousin, to all ask to see them at every family gathering, we want the walls of your home plastered with them, we want each image to invoke that same feeling you felt when you said "I do" standing on that mountain top, as you slow danced under a million star or the excitement you felt as you adventured into the unknown with your love.

When you invest your trust and money in us, we invest everything in you, your experience and your memories. We are not there just to click buttons. Photographing your wedding is a big responsibility and you deserve a photographer who has experience, has professional equipment (with backups of backups), who knows how to work with any level of comfort in front of the camera, who can deal with the harshest of lighting conditions and the worst of weather and who is going to be there with you, and for you, 100% of the way.

We are the WildBunch

If you made it this far, you've probably seen these faces before & know who we are , but just incase, our names are Tiffany & Austin.

We are adventure-focused photographers based in the White Mountains of New Hampshire. We have a passion for the outdoors and for telling our couples amazing love stories through documentary photography .

Our Mission

Our style is fun and natural, with an emphasis on capturing real moments of real love. We focus less on those “stand here, look at the camera, tilt your head to the left” photos and more on documenting the moments in between. We want the real moments, the authentic moments, the moments that make your face hurt from smiling & your heart beat faster. The stolen glances & soft forehead kisses. These are the magical moments, the pure moments, the moments we live for. We're here to photograph the things that make you who you are and that make your love unique. Our jobs are more than producing beautiful images but documenting real moments that will last a lifetime.
