Dear Soul,

Thank you for choosing to have a Soul Blueprint reading. Let me explain what a Soul Blueprint is and how it can enrich your life.

You can see your blueprint as a reference guide that contains detailed information and knowledge about your soul's origin and its journey. When your soul was born, it was imprinted with a unique frequency, a gift and a certain kind of character.

Having knowledge about your soul's frequency, gift and character gives you power and freedom. Because you can then make choices that are aligned with your soul. Why is that important? Because creating a life in alignment with the essence of your soul leads to a more fulfilling and abundant life.

Therefore, knowing your Soul Blueprint is essential to understanding what an aligned choice is for you and what is not. This is not obvious at all, because we live in a society with a lot of pressure on expected social behavior that may keep you from staying true to your soul. We usually grow up feeling pressured to behave a certain way and are not taught to listen to our inner voice. So we drift away from our original soul frequency. This blueprint is a way to come back to the essence of you.

In the first chapter I am giving you a short overview of your blueprint. And in the following chapters, we will go into every aspect in detail.

The 2nd chapter about your Divine Gift is going to help you recognize, express and manifest the energy of your gift. I am getting practical here, so you know what changes you can make if you feel called to do that.

In the next chapter, the information about your Soul Group can give you a big sense of validation and sometimes even relief. It can help you understand why you are the way you are. So this information can change your viewpoint on something you have, up until now, called an imperfection. It may lead to more self love.

It can also be helpful to know what your soul has been doing in between lifetimes, so you know you carry this expertise into this lifetime. That is the information about Soul Trainings in chapter 4.

The next chapter, chapter 5, is about your life lessons. This information is incredible valuable and can accelerate personal growth.

When you find yourself in a difficult situation, read this chapter again and it will put everything in perspective. You now know exactly what lesson the situation is trying to teach you or what theme your soul is trying to get familiar with through this experience. Instead of asking yourself: why is this happening to me, you can ask: what is it for? What is the opportunity for my soul here?

The last chapters, 6 to 9 are the smaller pieces of the puzzle so to say and can satisfy a curiosity. Chapter 6 tells you about the archetypal gifts you bring, for example the Rebel or the Artist. These archetypes are indicating the direction of your purpose.

Chapter 7 is about the roles you have lived the most in past lives, like 'worker' or 'warrior'. You probably recognize these roles in your life right now, or some may surprise you.

In chapter 8 I will tell you about your intuitive and empath gifts, confirming what you probably already know about yourself. And in chapter 9, I have looked up the divine beings that are around you for support, like angels and ascended masters.

Finally, the most important question is: are you living according to your Soul Blueprint? In the last chapter I will give you insight to what measure you are aligned with your blueprint according to your Akashic Records. And I will give you personal advice on how to get even more into alignment.

Before we dive in, a final note:

As you can see, this pdf has many pages, filled with a lot of information about your soul.

Don't try to read it all at once.

Because reading this can stir things up on many levels and that requires an integration period.

So take all the time you need for this reading and listen to your intuition.

Now, let's get into it.

1 | OVERVIEW

If I were to sum up the aspects of your soul's purpose based on the findings of this reading, it would be as follows:

First and foremost, your soul's purpose is to bring information, knowledge and wisdom into the world, and to share that with others. You're a natural-born communicator.

As an Arcturean, you are working with some very high-level, spiritual energies. You have the capacity to bring through spiritual wisdom and insight and you may be drawn to areas such as channelling or healing, as a result.

In between lifetimes, your soul has gained expertise in nurturing new souls coming into this world for the first time, but also reviewing the life of souls leaving this world and helping them integrate their learnings. You have been exploring other star systems and dimensions and have a gift for keeping neutrality.

In this lifetime you have explored the theme of freedom.

And you carry with you the archetypal energy of the creator, the banner carrier and a sense of playfulness.

And finally, there is a lot of support around you of the dragons, Pachamama and five archangels.

You will read all about it in detail in this document. We begin with your Divine Gift.

THE GIFT

The first aspect of your soul I want to go into is something called your Energy Centre of Training. You may be wondering what this term means. Our Energy Center of Training is our Divine Gift. The most defining aspect of the soul blueprint. It is an energy or a quality that acts like a gateway to our creative life force energy. You can see your soul as a specialist in bringing this particular kind of energy forward with you into the physical plane. It is the energy you bring in this world - not just in this lifetime, but in previous (and future) lifetimes, too.

Expressing our energy centre of training is a major component of our soul's identity and purpose here on Earth. Our soul purpose is simply to be who we truly are. And by truly living and embodying your Divine Gift, you find the key to creating an abundant and fulfilling human experience.

As you grow more attuned to the aspects and qualities of your Gift, you can be more conscious of how you want to bring this into your life experience. Living according to your Blueprint, as opposed to trying to be someone you think your family or society wants you to be, will give you the greatest sense of fulfillment, purpose and alignment. You can try anything else you want, you are always free to choose, but it will not lead to the same sense of purpose of living according to your soul's plan. This document will give you all the direction you need to finding your purpose.

Now let's have a look at what your Gift is.

Your gift is:

DIVINE COMMUNICATION

This is the realm of communication, self-expression, teaching and learning and is presided over by Archangel Gabriel (read more about him in chapter 9).

A big part of your soul's purpose is to pass on information, knowledge and wisdom to others. Having this gift makes you a natural-born communicator, with a really strong desire for authentic self-expression.

How you prefer to express this realm of training will depend on your personality. I have noticed that introverted people with this gift are more likely to be gifted writers and teachers. Whereas the extroverted people are the ones who have the 'gift of the gab' and make excellent speakers and conversationalists.

Divine Communication also means that you have a lot of energy running through your throat chakra, and it will seek expression in your life and your work. So, it is important that you have a strong element of communication to your life and/or work

If you do not have a strong self-expression component to your life and career — such as teaching, speaking or writing — you can quickly become frustrated. Quite simply, you need to be heard, since you are one of the highly verbal people. Constantly talking, teaching and / or having whole conversations in your mind. Talking things through is really important and one of the greatest gifts anyone can give you is to simply listen and let you work through your thoughts verbally.

Most people with this gift who do not use their communication gifts in their work, usually have some other outlet for their throat chakra energies in their downtime (e.g. they sing in a choir, are involved in amateur acting or do volunteer teaching.)

So, my recommendation for you is to ensure you have an outlet for these gifts in your life. Souls who do not have a suitable outlet for their self-expression can fall into imbalance and either become overly talkative (i.e. aiming their opinions or knowledge at anyone who will listen) or even preachy/judgmental (i.e. start standing on a soapbox.) Sometimes they may shutdown and hide in the student role forever. Or they even may get stuck in the energy of silent resentment.

Teaching and Learning

People with this gift are natural-born teachers and I have noticed that many of those trained in this realm have chosen teaching as their career path — not necessarily teaching kids in school (although some do that) but there is usually a teaching element to their work.

Basically, teaching and learning is a big part of your soul's purpose. And most souls with this gift are as enthusiastic about learning as they are about teaching — because of this, they are often found to be taking classes and courses in their spare time and they are very open to new information and wisdom.

You may wonder why you have such a passion for learning, especially when it's the kind of learning that doesn't appear to be helping you to achieve your material goals. But the fact is that all Divine Communicators are always in a cycle of learning and teaching, and later on they may choose to pass on to others everything that they have learned. Sometimes they spend an entire lifetime in 'learning' mode or in 'teaching' mode. Or they can combine both in one lifetime. Basically, they love to absorb new knowledge and wisdom because at some point (either in this lifetime or a future one) they will pass it on.

Work life

Recommended careers for those who have this realm of training include: writing, teaching, journalism, blogging, acting, speaking, sales, music, sound therapy and mediumship. They love nothing more than to inspire others to DO something, for example transformation, buying a product or just take a new step on their path. Once they get over their insecurities about their value, they have no issue to market and sell their services.

The truth is you never have to worry about running out of content, even though it may not always feel that way when you are a writer. What is important for the flow of energy and abundant life as well, is that what you communicate comes from your own experience and wisdom. Original content is key to thriving in life.

Under stress you may feel trouble coming up with anything original to say, but just repeating what someone else has been saying/writing will not lead to abundance.

To find your way back to creativity, you must put an end to the information input by always wanting to learn something new.

People with this gift of Communication are often drawn to coaching. This is great, but it is very important that you give yourself permission to teach, not just to listen and ask questions. That is not your strength. You are at your best when you can teach. Through telling about your own life experiences for example, to be a channel for your own wisdom to come through. This is the realm of authenticity, so it is vital that you express your own unique opinions, expertise and lessons from your life experience. This is the path to abundance.

The last thing to keep in mind is that you tend to over-give your wisdom, something you may not be aware of since this is your normal. Your inner wisdom usually unfolds spontaneously when you communicate. But by speaking your own mind you give a lot of energy that nourishes people. This is a truly beautiful thing, but as an entrepreneur, your clients may not feel the need to buy your product anymore. Just something to keep in mind.

Reading about your Divine Gift can be a confirmation of what you already know and it will be a confidence booster: yes, you are walking your souls path.

Or you may not relate to your Gift that much. It is very good possible you feel this is just normal to you. So normal that you think everyone has this. To you, this is just not that special.

For some people this is the true even to the extent that their Gift becomes a blind spot. If that is the case for you, I suggest you observe yourself for a couple of weeks with this information in the back of your mind. See what you notice.

Consciously using these gifts give you the most uninterrupted access to the flow of life force energy, creative energy from Source.

Next, we have a look at your Soul Group to find out how this place has further shaped your soul's character.

THE SOUL GROUP

First of all, I am going to give you a bit of context as to what the term 'soul group of origin' means:

Your soul group of origin means the place where your soul experienced its first few incarnations.

Here on Earth, about 70-75% of the world's population are what we call 'Earth souls'. This means that they have only ever experienced an incarnation here on this planet.

Then there is another category of souls that we call 'star travellers' or 'star seeds'. These souls make up about 25-30% of the world's population, and being a star traveller means that you have experienced your formative incarnations in a place other than Earth.

A star traveller has been impacted by the star system the soul grew up in — this will affect strengths, gifts and the soul's mission.

I found that you are a star traveller, so this means that you are in the minority here on Earth, and you're probably going to feel a little bit different or 'alien' (pardon the pun) compared to most people. I am going to get more specific and tell you about the place which has had the biggest impact on your soul.

Let's have a look:

In the Akashic Records, it says that your formative incarnations were spent in:

Arcturus.

Arcturus is a star in the Boötes constellation. Those who have their origins in Arcturus are called Arctureans, so you're an Arcturean soul.

Arctureans Don't Incarnate All That Often

Arcturus as a place of incarnation resonates in the seventh dimension. By contrast, Earth resonates in the third dimension (which is of course far removed from the seventh dimension!) As a result, Arctureans don't usually like being in physical form and they do not incarnate here very often.

They are more often found on Spirit Guide teams and as non-physical teachers and they are more comfortable with this role.

Arctureans are highly spiritual, intuitive and intelligent souls. Even when they're incarnated, they often end up in the role of spiritual teacher or guide, often having a career in the area of metaphysics or healing. As a soul group, they are deeply respected and have a reputation for being highly evolved healers. They have a strong desire for spiritual service.

Staying Grounded

Because Arctureans are more comfortable in the higher dimensions, staying grounded can be a challenge for them while they are incarnated. They often have difficulties with the practical aspects of life — many of them wish they could eliminate certain 'tedious' physical tasks altogether (like washing or eating.) Arctureans often have a lot of energy in the upper chakras, at the expense of the lower ones - this often manifests as a lack of grounding, and as a result, Arctureans sometimes gain weight as a way to ground themselves in the physical.

Some souls feel they have to learn to ground more and they bring a lot of attention on that. But accepting that this is just part of your nature, can bring them more peace.

So this was your soul group of origin.

Next, I want to cover another important indicator of your soul's purpose: your soul trainings in between lifetimes.

4 | THE SOUL TRAINING

Earlier in this reading, we looked at your Divine Gift and your Soul Groups of Origin, both of which tell us a lot about your purpose, gifts and talents.

There is another aspect which can reveal more about what you are good at: the soul trainings that you have undertaken in between lifetimes. What do I mean by 'in between lifetimes'?

When we die and cross over to the other side, we don't necessarily incarnate again immediately. In terms of earthly linear time, there is usually some time lapse between one incarnation ending and another one beginning. This time lapse on earth between incarnations usually corresponds to the undertaking of a soul training or career on the other side. (Exceptions to this are when your soul needs to recover from an intense incarnation.)

So a 'soul training in between incarnations' is a 'career' that we have while we're not in a body. It is something that we learn and can become experts in, while we're on the other side. These soul trainings are meaningful because they can shape our interests and our gifts when we're incarnated, and enable us to bring the skills that we have learned through these non-physical 'careers' into our lives and into the lives of others.

So what are the 'trainings' that you have undertaken between your earthly lifetimes?

There are four that came up for you.

You are an Incubator soul.

Incubator souls prepare, nurture and assist souls who are incarnating into our world for the first time. This 'incubator' role will lend you a nurturing quality — nurturing and supporting is a role you will be comfortable with because you have done this between lifetimes.

Incubator souls often enjoy nurturing animals, people, children and plants. Not all incubator souls feel the desire to become a parent but if they do have children, they make excellent parents.

In between lifetimes, you have also been a 'Life Review Counsellor'.

Life Review Counsellors are beings (on the 'other side') who help us with our life review when our incarnation is over.

What Is the 'Life Review'?

When you die, you obviously shed the physical body. You will also begin to shed certain human aspects such as any negativity or pain you were holding. Sometimes this healing lasts several days in linear Earth time. This healing is part of the wider process of embodying everything that you learned in your lifetime and integrating all your experiences into the fabric of your soul. The negative falls away and the learning and wisdom remains. The Life Review also plays a strong role in the spiritual 'shedding' and 'integrating' process that occurs after death.

During the life review, the soul reviews the experiences of the lifetime that has just ended. The soul will often replay and relive particularly important scenes of the lifetime, like watching a movie. The soul can also experience certain life events from the perspective of another soul who was involved in the situation.

For example, let's say that during your life you caused great pain and suffering for someone. As part of your life review you will get the opportunity to experience the situation from the point of view of the person who was hurt. By doing this you have the opportunity to learn more and reach a greater understanding of your role in the situation and of the consequences of your actions.

The Role of the Life Review Counsellors

As part of the life review, souls come into contact with Life Review counsellors who can help them to evaluate what they learned in their most recent lifetime. The Life Review counsellors hold a sacred space for the soul who is undergoing their life review. They do not advise nor do they purposely lead the soul towards a specific conclusion — instead their role is simply to help souls receive the learnings from the events of the lifetime that has just gone.

What this means for who you are now:

It probably won't surprise you to hear that those who have previously held the role of Life Review Counsellor (like you have) are natural born counsellors.

These people are great listeners. They can help people to see their patterns and life lessons just by holding a sacred space and listening. Other people will instantly trust these souls (even if they have only just met!) and will open up to them about their issues and life story, often in the most unlikely of places — at the bus stop, in the supermarket, or on aeroplanes! They really excel at holding a clear, non-judgmental space for others to reflect upon and discuss their lives.

This is an excellent soul training to have for career roles such as psychotherapists, clinical psychologists, counsellors, professional intuitives and other roles that involve helping others to heal emotionally and come to terms with their life events.

You have the 'Explorer' soul training. This means that in your soul's past, you have either been an ambassador for your soul group in a foreign star system, or you may have observed other soul groups and star systems. You could have incarnated in a parallel dimension or just travelled for the sake of adventure.

Consequently, on the soul level, you are unafraid of exploring — you teach other people that we need not be afraid of the unknown.

Explorer souls are like the adventurers among souls — they like to go out and explore uncharted territory. So, you will be someone who likes to blaze your own trails and explore new places.

In terms of how this Explorer soul training can manifest in your life, I have met Explorer souls who are very adventurous people who like travelling, adventure and taking risks – the types who enjoy adventure holidays, trekking through the rainforest and bungee jumping!

But I've also come across Explorer souls who would hate to go bungee jumping and instead favour exploration in their inner life, with an enjoyment of learning or exploring consciousness. These more inwardly-focused Explorer souls are often taking new courses and workshops, and are interested in new beliefs and ways of doing things.

Whether you express this in a more inward or external manner, know that openness, adventure and fearlessness are energies you bring into the world through your Explorer soul training.

You are a 'Keeper of Neutrality'.

This means that you have studied diplomacy and mediation on the other side. You have learned how to be a neutral space (a bit like Switzerland) with the aim of helping conflicting parties to reconcile. You are adept at occupying a space where you have no affiliations and where you do not take sides.

This means that you bring the energies of peace and harmony into the physical realm. You know how to keep the peace and you will make a good mediator.

When out of balance, Keepers of Neutrality will refuse to take a stand on an issue out of fear, or they may use neutrality as something to hide behind. They may remain 'on the fence', even when it does not serve them and they can also have difficulties making decisions, because they can see the validity in all paths.

Basically, as a Keeper of Neutrality, it is good for you to know that you specialize in occupying a neutral space when needed, but this is not an energy you need to hold all of the time.

Next, we will look at your lessons in this life.

5| THE LIFE LESSONS

We learn our life lessons through both positive and challenging experiences. Whether we learn through positive or negative experiences is completely up to us and our mindset as we move through life.

The 'only' work is to be more conscious of your life lessons that contribute to the wholeness of your soul.

A huge reason for souls incarnating on Earth is for the learning opportunities offered here.

And before we even incarnate here, your soul decides on a curriculum of 'life lessons' that it wants to learn. I call these 'life lessons' but in fact they are more like energetic qualities or themes that we explore in any given lifetime. They are like the underlying 'thread' of our life experiences - and we usually attract people, situations and experiences which help us to explore these themes and lessons.

Why do we bother to learn life lessons? Well, the keyword is 'wholeness'. On the soul level, we have strengths, but there are also energetic qualities that we lack in ourselves.

And the purpose of life lessons is to give us experiences that contribute to our wholeness. By integrating those energetic qualities into our soul, we reach a greater sense of wholeness.

A few other things to note about our life lessons: We have one primary life lesson (which is the dominant one) and several secondary life lessons. When we complete our primary life lesson, a secondary one replaces it as the primary. It takes at least several lifetimes (and sometimes longer) to thoroughly explore one life lesson.

Our life lessons are not a 'to do' list! We do not have to consciously 'try' to learn or explore them - we naturally attract and subconsciously choose experiences in life anyway which help us to learn them - no trying necessary.

The primary life lesson that came up for you is:

Freedom

This life lesson is an exploration of the benefits and drawbacks of having a high level of freedom.

Some people with this life lesson may find themselves born into a family where they have complete freedom — perhaps a lot of money to spend as they see fit, along with freedom of time and movement.

Others with this life lesson find themselves in situations with many limitations, and where they lack the freedom to do as they choose. This could manifest as a physical limitation; being trapped by circumstance, a lack of resources, or restrictions set by an external authority around what you can and can't do in your life.

So, this lesson is about transcending any such limitations, in order to attain a greater level of freedom in your life.

You decided to explore this theme in the area of health, spiritual development and rest & relaxation, so your 'free' time, what you do for leisure.

So with health issues, how free or limited do you still feel in your body and in your mind. Maybe very limited, but that is also exploring freedom. Finding freedom in spiritual development can be about letting go of attachments, dogma's, guru's and ultimately knowing you have always been free.

You are 95% complete with this theme, so you have been exploring this for multiple lifetimes before this one and it seems after this life you are done.

This is quite rare but I have found no secondary life lessons for you. You chose just one for this lifetime and you are almost done. If you decide to come back for another incarnation, the field is wide open for you to chose your themes.

Now I want to talk about another aspect of your life lesson: the focus of your incarnation.

In spiritual teachings and texts, you may have heard ideas like 'Earth is a school, we are here to learn'. Or: 'souls are here to have experiences and enjoy planet Earth'.

There seems to be disagreement about whether Earth is a school or a playground but in fact, it varies from one soul to the next.

Some souls choose to contribute something to planet earth, others come here primarily to learn. Some come to support other souls in their learning & evolution and then some souls choose to come here just to have experiences and enjoy themselves.

So far I have found these four reasons for souls incarnating here. Let me explain a little about them.

The purpose of learning/evolution is to give our soul lots of experiences, so that we can integrate new energetic qualities into our soul, and reach a greater sense of wholeness on the soul level. Note that most souls have some degree of learning and evolution to their lifetime, but for souls in a learning lifetime the focus is almost exclusively on evolution, and it can be intense. You will get many opportunities to get the theme of your life lesson into practice.

A contribution lifetime is one where a person has a soul contract to fulfill a particular role with a group of people.

This could involve bringing through an important project that will change the lives of many people. It could be about working with a group, or supporting a (ethnic, political, religious) group in some significant way, or being a leader of some description. It could also be about fighting for a cause.

Souls sometimes choose a holiday/rejuvenation lifetime when they have had a series of intense learning lifetimes and so this time around they want a bit of a rest. In this life, they are choosing to have happy experiences which will resource them for future lifetimes and give them a break on the soul level. Their primary focus is enjoying planet earth.

Note that souls may still learn and evolve during a holiday lifetime, but the rate of evolution will be much less, compared to a learning lifetime.

And the last focus for a soul can be to offer support to other souls. A support lifetime is one where a soul incarnates partly to help someone else learn their life lessons or work out karma with other souls. The best way to explain this one, is that when we incarnate here, it's like we're all playing parts in the play of life. In order to go through certain experiences, we often need other people to play their part so we can learn something about ourselves.

In general, some souls are here to experience a combination of some or even all of those.

So as you can see, each soul has their own individual purpose for coming here based on what the soul's goals are for this lifetime.

Let's have a look at what your soul decided to primarily focus on.

I found in your Records there are two focuses your soul has for this lifetime:

Your soul's primary focus in this lifetime is to rejuvenate. So, as a result, I think your pace of learning your life lessons will be more leisurely than it is for some souls. In recent times, you have had a few very intense lifetimes where you have learned a great deal and your soul is a little bit tired as a result, and so in this lifetime you will not be quite as focussed about learning your life lessons — you're having a bit of a break in this lifetime in that regard, and focusing more on the pure enjoyment of being alive.

Your soul's secondary focus in this lifetime is support.

This is a lifetime where you are not so much a leading man/lady in your own story, but you're here to be in a support role for someone else. This means that another person has lessons they are choosing to learn and experiences they want to have on the soul level, but they need you to play a part to help them to learn those lessons and have those experiences.

So, as a result, your soul is not as focused on the above life lessons as it would otherwise be, and the pace of learning your life lessons will be more leisurely than it is for some souls.

Archetypes are gifts that you have, coming forth through your unique soul frequency.

An archetype gives you a talent that contributes to your purpose on earth. So knowing this gives you more information and clarification about your soul purpose and strengths you can use in this lifetime.

The Creator

You hold the Creator archetype. Creators are very good at making things happen — they get a real kick out of taking their visions and dreams and making them real and physical. Creators are dreamers, planners and action-takers. They are driven to build things which will impact their life and the lives of others. They have a great deal of enthusiasm that can be infectious and inspiring, because they are so motivated and willing to take action. They are also good at helping others to 'just do it' and get past their mental and emotional resistance to doing something. They teach others the value of action, persistence and inspiration.

Playfulness

Having this archetype means that part of your soul's purpose in this lifetime is to uplift others through your sense of fun, innocence and humor. These energies of playfulness remind others to relax, loosen up and have fun, and not take things too seriously, and as a result, your presence can be refreshing or invigorating for others to be around. Essentially you are here to remind others that life is not just a school for learning, but also a playground to be enjoyed.

The Banner Carrier

You hold the Banner Carrier archetype, which usually means you've done a fair amount of fighting in past lives — whether as a warrior, or someone who fights for a cause. The Banner Carrier is the person at the front in a demonstration, who is shouting louder than everyone else! This archetype is feisty; a fighter and a warrior. It means you are not afraid to assert yourself vigorously and fight for rights that have been violated or threatened — these could be your own rights or other peoples'. When involved in a cause, Banner Carriers are vocal and dedicated. So, this archetype definitely suggests that you have an activist streak in you.

7| PAST LIFE ROLES

Something else I looked into is: what are the past life roles and patterns that you have gone back to most frequently in your past lives? Talents and skills we have developed in past lives, we carry with us in next incarnations. They all have an impact on what we are good at right now and knowing this can validate our likes, dislikes, skills and quirks.

The Pillar of Society

This means that you have often been the patriarch, provider for the family, and probably involved in business and commerce as part of this role. In past lives, you have learned to become comfortable with a heavy load of responsibility, and you have often been a conformist, middle class or operated in the mainstream.

The Communicator

You have honed your communication skills over many lifetimes in roles like scribe, storyteller, scholar or orator. In many incarnations, you have passed on knowledge, information or wisdom. You may have been the keeper of the tales and legends of your tribe, passing these on to the next generation. And so this past life role shows that you possess talents in the area of communication.

The Spiritual Life

In previous lives you have been on an independent spiritual path, and may have a more free connection with the Divine as a result.

You have had multiple past lives such as shaman, oracle, wise woman, witch, or priest/priestess in some spiritual traditions.

This path is about having a spiritual role in society, but one that is less about hierarchical and organized religion. As a result, when you incarnate here, you will usually hold the belief that there is a Divine intelligence behind everything that happens.

You may be drawn towards exploring the psychic realm as well, and you can use their gifts to bring through wisdom gained from your lifetimes in a spiritual role.

I can see how the spiritual wisdom of your Arcturean nature fits into being the pillar of society and having an important role in a spiritual tradition. The communicator is of course always with you in every lifetime because of your divine gift of communication.

INTUITION AND EMPATHY

In this section I will tell you about your intuitive and empath gifts. These are natural gifts coming forth from your soul. They may be very active or they may be more dormant in you.

Intuitive Gift

Clairvoyance

You have the gift of clairvoyance. This is the ability to 'see' Spirit. Clairvoyants usually 'see' in their mind's eye. (This is the 'movie screen' that exists in your head when you close your eyes—if you try and visualize something, it will appear on the screen that is your mind's eye.) Some clairvoyants can see deceased spirits and the auras of the living. Some can see images and metaphors which are meaningful for situations. In those cases, claircognizance or clairsight must also be used to decode what the metaphor or image means.

You are claircognizant.

Claircognizance means 'clear-knowing'. Claircognizants 'know' certain things without being told. For claircognizants, their Higher self or Spirit Guides put information (in the form of thoughts, ideas and impressions) into their mind. This can be a whole load of information that is 'downloaded' into the mind. It can be smaller insights about people and situations here and there. It can be an inspired idea. All claircognizance is characterized by this strong sense of knowing that goes beyond logic and by the fact that the intuitive information comes into the thinking mind, not into the heart or the mind's eye.

Empath Gift

Physical Empathy

You are a physical empath. A physical empath is a person who can experience someone else's physical state in their body. For example, if someone around you is nervous, as a physical empath you would feel nervous too when you are tuned into them.

But perhaps rather than feeling the emotional anxiety (like an emotional empath would), instead you get sweaty palms and begin to take short, shallow breaths, like someone who is very stressed, without knowing why your body is reacting this way.

When massage therapists and body-workers have this gift, they are likely to really notice it while they work with clients. They will be able to feel any aches, pains, or tension in the client's body.

Physical empaths often experience aches and pains (especially headaches) that can come and go while they are around others. They can also experience symptoms of an illness that do not belong to them, leading them to feel like hypochondriacs. What is often happening is that they react to people like sponges, taking on the physical pain of others.

Psychological Empathy

You have the gift of psychological empathy, too. Psychological empaths are able to gain insight into other people's minds, thoughts, and judgments. They can also join energetically with students or learners – psychological empaths make good teachers because they can see the 'cogs moving in someone's brain.' They are usually interested in thought processes, and how people arrive at certain conclusions. They are also blessed with the ability to see and understand everyone's point of view, and make good mediators.

So, a lot of gifts here for you, this may not always be easy. Boundaries is the magic word. Knowing what works for you and stand up for that. Take good care of this sensitive side of you.

DIVINE BEINGS

I have found in your records the presence of divine beings, guardian angels and archangels that around you for support and guidance. This can confirm your intuition, maybe you have been working with a certain angel or master, maybe this is all news to you. All is fine. There is nothing you need to DO with this information. If it does not resonate, just leave it. If it does you can actively call on them and ask for guidance.

Also my list is not exhaustive, there are many more ascended masters that I don't know of. I have just checked the most known masters and beings from unconditional love. This is what your Records show:

Divine Beings

Dragons

You are being called to re-awaken the dragon energy for the new earth.

Dragons are portals to a multidimensional field.

They represent true freedom, and infinite love.

They are here to remind us that Love equals Power and vice versa.

The dragons will only show themselves to humans who are empowered selfless beings, who are in service to a greater purpose. These souls, like you, carry within themselves a deep strength and open heart, so dragons are naturally attracted to them. Dragons know to be safe in your field.

Awakening the dragon within and through yourself will magnify your life force energy and that will have many positive influences on all levels, physical wellbeing, emotional stability and spiritual growth.

You can personally strengthen your own field, by calling in their field. At the same time, they are counting on you to carry their energy into the world. To be a guardian for the multidimensional gateways they represent.

Maybe a personal dragon will reveal itself to you, with a name, this could be a connection from a past life. Or maybe it is the field in general you are here to bring back in for planetary healing. You can always ask the dragons for guidance and protection if you need them. To the dragons nothing is impossible and they remind us we can move mountains if we wanted to.

Pachamama

You have a fair bit of Goddess/Divine feminine energy around you. In particular I noticed the energy of an ancient Goddess around you.

You have the energies of the Incan Goddess Pachamama around you.

Pachamama was the Incan Goddess of farming and fertility. She is also known as the "Earth Mother" and the Incans believed she sustains life on this Earth.

Because this is quite an obscure Goddess, and one that not many people call on these days, this will almost certainly be the result of a past life in South America, probably a religious one, too.

This is confirmed by what I mentioned in chapter 7, about your past life roles.

Angels

We all have Guardian Angels, who are with us from before we incarnate, every second of our life on earth, and after we return to the light.

Every human has a minimum of two Guardian Angels, who appear in their true form as an orb with a huge, radiant warm golden aura. One is often the main guide, and others step forward to support them through specific themes or life events.

Your Guardian Angels are assigned to you before you incarnate, and are with you every moment, including after when you return to Source, where they continue to assist you as you process your earthly experience. You don't need to be religious to have Guardian Angels. You just need to be human. Your Guardian Angels have been guiding you, even if you don't realize, with feelings, signs, messages and intuitive guidance your whole life.

I found you have two Guardian Angels, both of them have a feminine energy.

Remember you can ask them for help for literally anything in your life, no matter how big or small, they are here for you, always.

Archangels

According to your divine gift, Divine Communication, this realm of training is presided over by Archangel Gabriel.

But I found that you also have the energy and support of four other archangels,

They are showing up in your life, either because you called on them or because they know you can benefit from their specific energy.

Their whole reason of existence is solely for the purpose of assistance to humanity, to you and me individually and to the collective as a whole. And they jump for joy when you ask them for help, whatever it is.

On the next page I will tell you about them.

Sidenote: Angels have to obey the rules of free will. That is why I included a short prayer at the end. If it resonates with you, you can use it to intentionally invite them into your life and work with you on specific themes.

First the angel that presides over your gift, Divine Communication.

Archangel Gabriel: the Angel of communication

Archangel Gabriel is one of the few Archangels that presents with both feminine and masculine energy. Some people sense Gabriel as androgynous, some as masculine, some as feminine. All is fine. Archangel Gabriel has a very calm, peaceful and warm energy. Archangel Gabriel helps with communication, writing, creativity, research, self expression, and communication in relationships.

Gabriel helps us express ourselves, be heard, and express our authentic truth.

Part of Gabriel's work is to assist us to bring harmony and balance to the divine masculine and feminine, via expression of self and communication.

Archangel Gabriel helps all communicators in all forms, including creative, research, journalism, and science. Gabriel loves the creative minds of humans and supports us all to express our own unique perspective and vision. He/she explains that we all can channel messages from the divine, and that some have a purpose of bringing through guidance for others, and others don't. Just as some humans are teachers, others are carpenters.

Archangel Gabriel wants us to know that often the experience of receiving a message and trusting the guidance is as much about our own soul journey of faith, as it is about the message and how it is received.

Archangel Gabriel also supports parents and carers through the journey of pregnancy, childbirth and parenting.

Prayer: Archangel Gabriel, I invite you to work with me to have full expression of myself in all relationships, and in my creative projects. Thank you.

Archangel Michael : the Angel of protection & courage

Archangel Michael is the Angel of courage & protection. He always presents with masculine energy. He feels safe, protective, loving, and kind. He has a sense of humor and feels warm and fatherly. Archangel Michael is often the first Archangel people work with during a spiritual awakening, as he can help you feel safe and protected.

He can help with energetic sovereignty, cord cutting, energetic boundaries, and aura integrity. He works with all light workers, and assists with all aspects of the journey of stepping into soul contracts of serving the light.

Archangel Michael wants you to know that you are truly worthy of serving the light, and that he is here to support you through every single step of your journey. He wants you to embrace the journey of raising your vibration.

Archangel Michael wants you to know that you have a purpose of serving the light, and that you are important and needed. He wants you to trust and have faith that all will be revealed to you in divine timing, which means exactly when you are ready.

Archangel Michael explains that energetic protection is not necessary. It is a temporary measure. The way to have stronger energetic boundaries is to raise your vibration, and this comes through flooding your body with Light. This practice is accessible and human, not just energetic.

Archangel Michael invites you to begin working with him to raise your vibration, move into your life purpose of service, and to let go of fear.

Prayer: Archangel Michael, I invite you to surround my aura in your protective energy and light so that I may focus on raising my vibration. Thank you!

Archangel Grace: The Angel of grace

She assists us with the spiritual journey of grace. She has a calming energy that envelopes you with compassion, acceptance, and a gentle love that neutralize all fear, all resistance, all walls, and all control. She invites you to practice surrender, knowing that in your leap of faith, you will find the divine. You will find grace.

When you connect with Archangel Grace you will feel all your self-judgement dissolve, replaced by compassion, forgiveness, unconditional love, and acceptance. You will feel all your final veils, attachments, and outdated belief systems dissolve instantly. You will feel your loving power, your divinity, your worth, and the infinite love of the divine holding you.

Peace is found, self-acceptance and acceptance for others blossoms in your heart and consciousness.

Archangel Grace is here to help you embody grace now, at a time when it is much needed. In the face of hatred, judgement, shaming, and blame, Archangel Grace assists you to neutralize these energies, by practicing and embodying grace. Archangel Grace invites all starseeds and light workers who are mastering the final stages of their ascension journey, and those who have a knowing that they may not incarnate again, to work with her now to explore unconditional acceptance for self and all beings, as an expression and exploration of grace.

She invites you to access the zero point, or inversion point with her, by detaching from all outcomes and situations that are causing you pain, and seeing them as divinely perfect for you and all beings. Finding acceptance is the key to experiencing and embodying grace.

Archangel Grace invites you to see all experiences as both necessary and perfect, as they are a manifestation in perfect harmony with all beings, and to open to the full spectrum of the human experience without judgement or resistance. She invites you to become curious and open to the miracles that await you as you explore and embody grace.

Prayer: Archangel Grace, please help me find acceptance for all that exists in my life right now in this moment. Please help me see the divine perfection and love in all my experiences, and practice and embody grace. Thank you.

Archangel Azrael: the Angel of death and transition

Archangel Azrael is the Angel who assists all humans transition at their time of death.

His energy is incredible grounding, reassuring and comforting.

Archangel Azrael assists with all aspects of death and transition, as well as assisting the grieving process of loved ones left behind. He also supports all those who work in hospitals, in death care, and who are present at death. He helps stuck or lost souls transition back to the light once the time comes, and he can assist light workers who facilitate such work.

He wants us to know that there is nothing to fear from death. He reminds us that death is a transition from one form to another and that we retain consciousness and awareness. He wants us to know that all souls return to the light, and to heaven, and receive forgiveness, healing, and compassion.

Archangel Azrael wants us to know that "hell" as we understand it does not exist, and that it is a human idea.

Archangel Azrael wants us to know that we are eternal, that death is sacred and death is a part of life that can be celebrated as well as mourned. He wants us to know that there is love in death, as in life. We are only changing form. He wants us to know that he can assist the death process, physically, emotionally, and spiritually. He wants us to remember that as with all other parts of life, death will have moments of beauty, pain, suffering, joy, grace, mess, and more. He reminds us that there is no part of this that is worse than or better than, or punishment or reward. As with life, it just is. The experience has value regardless.

Archangel Azrael invites you to work with him to ease your fear of death, and to assist you, or a loved one through the death process.

Prayer: Archangel Azrael, please help me through anything concerning the process of death and assist the sacred transition back to the light for all souls. Thank you.

Archangel Raziel: The Angel of ancient wisdom, esoteric learning, past life wisdom, and wisdom from other dimensions.

Archangel Raziel is very lighthearted, playful, bubbly, and filled with radiant joy!

He can help you open to receive information that exists within your memory from past lives, or within your genetic history. And he can help you open to channel and receive information that exists in the creation flow of source, or that which is available to download from other dimensions.

Archangel Raziel has a protective light energy, which filters any unsafe energy or consciousness from coming through his channel when you are working with him.

When you work with him, you can request to only receive information that is safe, that is in your highest good to receive, and that is in the highest good of all humans to receive.

Archangel Raziel explains that it is your innate right to recall information that you have learned in previous lifetimes, so that you can continue your karmic or life purpose work.

The process of recalling past life information is painless and safe, and often you will not even realize it has happened until you suddenly seem to have new knowledge and memories within you. He wants you to have faith and trust in him for this process, as it is really quite fun and nothing to fear!

Archangel Raziel explains that wisdom, learning and knowledge is much easier than most humans understand. It's far more magical and energetic than difficult and clunky.

Its opening to the flow of source, of creation, of God. All knowledge exists and is available to all living beings who are ready to receive it, and Archangel Raziel explains that genius, brilliance, and miraculous creative ideas are not random. One day humans will know how to connect intentionally to this source. He is excited to participate in the collective consciousness awakening that will occur to facilitate this knowledge.

Archangel Raziel invites you to work with him to recall your knowledge from past lives, and to connect to the source of creative inspiration and all wisdom and knowledge.

Prayer: Archangel Raziel, I invite you to work with me. Please help me open to the truth that all knowledge exists already, and that I can access this energetically. Thank you.

10| THE ALIGNMENT

As you know now, you have the beautiful gift of Divine Communication. This is what you come here to express, in different forms, in all of your incarnations.

But to what degree are you actually living your Divine Gift in this lifetime? And why is that important?

Living according to your blueprint is about loving yourself so uniquely, that you do not conform to anyone else's ideas. The more authentically you express yourself, the greater depth of Oneness you will experience with the people and the world around you.

(A note: If you are happy with your life and don't need anything to change, this information is not of much importance to you. Read it, take what resonates and leave what doesn't.

But if you find yourself stuck or questioning why things are not going the way you want to, it is advisable for you to take conscious action towards your alignment.)

At the time of writing, August 2024, your Akashic Records show that your alignment to the gift of communication is not yet optimal.

I can see in your Records that you are spending a lot of your energy on moving in this world out of compassion. Working for a cause, nurturing and giving to others, maybe at the expense of your own wellbeing and lack of boundaries. You may take on other people's stuff, issues or emotions, sacrificing your own health or financial situation. This can be influenced by the archetype of the banner carrier (chapter 6).

Or feeling compassionate for the earth, for Mother Nature. That is not a bad thing obviously. But that is not where your gift lies and should not be the motivation to do things in this world for you. It is a noble thing and for people with the gift of Divine Compassion, they should spend a lot of time and energy on working for a cause, they are natural givers. But that is not your gift.

You are here to communicate (teaching, talking or writing) the spiritual wisdom you bring from Arcturus.

In your blueprint there is the presence of another gift, that is about healing through the heart. Radiating love, just being love.

This is probably unconsciously, but it shows in your records you are mostly driven by compassion, the need to help. This may shift more to being driven by Love. I hope you can sense the difference.

People can heal when they are around you, just because you radiate love. Nothing to do.

In my opinion, the gift of Compassion is very much about doing, practical things for a community, at work or life in general.

But the gift of healing through the heart is purely being.

Maybe these are leftovers from the past that are ready to be released. Just feel into it, if this resonates.

I also see that you spend a lot of energy on practical things like the body, maybe finance, creating things in the physical world. Maybe this comes forth from trying to be human too much, trying to ground, while you are not here to ground. (Read back about Arcturus in chapter 3)

If you are looking for more alignment, focus that energy more on communicating your wisdom and insight and being the Love in relationships. Less doing, more being.

For example, at work there may be a lot of doing and helping, but maybe you can become more aware of your gift for healing through the heart, just by you being you.

Again, if your life works for you the way it is, great! Then just let this information go. I feel this is small stuff compared to the wisdom and enlightenment you carry in your soul. There is a true sense of completion in your blueprint, like you reached a destination.

The peace and stability shine through everything. Thank you for being you.

And here comes this reading to an end. I feel honored to have made this blueprint for you and I admire the beauty of your soul.

Let all the information sink in and like I said in the beginning: take a lot of time for integration!

Pick it up again when you are ready and you might read new things that you had not noticed before. You will start to connect the dots and see the bigger picture of your soul's unique journey.

I wish for you that this document helps you remember who you are at soul level and it encourages you to embrace every aspect of your unique soul frequency.

May you live in the Light of your Soul and know you are one with All.
