LOVE LYSAN

ABOUT ME

My name is Lysanne Römer, 37 years old and living together with my fiancé Marciano and our daughter Saya, who is 3 years old. We live in The Hague in Holland.

I am a dutch photographer who works national and international. I had the pleasure to work in Greece, Italy, France and on Curaçao. I own my own Photostudio in The Hague, but also love to work outside.

I have a great love for people and capturing special moments. I am spontaneous and thanks to my empathic ability I don't miss a laugh or a tear on your day. I work hard, am a perfectionist, come up with creative ideas and will do everything I can to give you the images you expect from me. I also have a good eye for detail and will capture everything you have put your time in.

WHAT TO EXPECT

A period of orientation, planning and arranging has begun. Every wedding is different and every bridal couple is unique. During your day I will do everything I can to capture the essence of you as a couple. I will capture all the choices you have made for the most important day of your lives, with love and eye for detail.

My style is fresh, loving, realistic, pure and thanks to my empathetic character I capture all the valuable moments on your beautiful day. I move among the people and capture moments as they are. During the wedding I love to do a Loveshoot with just the two of you. During a (semi) posed love shoot, I ensure that the atmosphere is relaxed, so that we capture spontaneous pictures.

From the getting ready and the emotional first look to the funny speeches at dinner and the romantic first dance. I can be by your side all day long to capture all the most beautiful moments.

I can be by your side all day long to capture all the most beautiful moments or you can choose to have only a few hours of shooting. Once we have discussed all the details together, I will create an invoice based on your wishes, included travel expenses. Once you agree to the invoice and have paid a down payment, your date is set.

WORKFLOW

It is important to have a good connection with the photographer who will capture your beautiful day. This way you feel most comfortable in front of the camera. That is why I love to do a 'getting to know you' call with you or your wedding planner.

A week or two before your beautiful day we (you or the wedding planner) will have a contact moment to discuss all the last things. This way I am well informed of all the wedding details.

I like to be involved in your day. So you can always message me with nice ideas and questions.

During your day I will be present in a calm, pleasant way. But I also know very well when I should disappear silently into the background.

I move between the people to capture the real moments. During our conversations we get to know each other and I also learn what moments are important to you. During your love shoot I will help you with poses so that beautiful spontaneous images are created. I am punctual, think along with you and ensure that I contribute to your day.
