

Photo by David Macaluso

Claudia Tejeda
Claudia Giselle Design LLC

The homeowners of this Briarcliff Manor house wanted a powder room that was both timeless and bold, so a black-and-white color palette was chosen, along with an abstract wallpaper from John Rosselli & Associates, to give this small space a big personality. Classic elements, like the marble herringbone floor pattern, marble pedestal vanity sink, and the wood wainscoting, are complemented by a contemporary brass mirror, an oil-rubbed bronze alabaster sconce and surface mount fixture, with matte-black plumbing fixtures and accessories.