LUXURY INTERIORS ROOTED IN NATURE

Nestled in the heart of Sandpoint, Idaho, Base Camp Design isn't just an interior design firm; it's a gateway to mountain living. Led by Kate Lyster, whose soul is infused with the spirit of North Idaho, this design firm goes beyond simple aesthetics to craft havens that resonate with the unique mountain lifestyle. We listen to your vision, take the time to understand your connection to nature, and translate it into a harmonious space that honors the surroundings with the interior of your home.

The Base Camp Design signature touch blurs the lines between indoors and outdoors, creating a sense of immersion in the breathtaking landscape of North Idaho. Each project is a testament of our commitment to bringing the soul of the mountains into your home. Our team designs for those who love the outdoors, and want to bring that open-air feeling into their homes.
