I am going to do some cool new things

*draw your picture in this space

I am going to be doing some cool new things, I might even be seeing some cool new places. That's ok, because I am a pro at doing new things and handling change. I talked to my parents and I know that these are some of the things I will see or do:

When our routine changes I can visualize my schedule each day so that I know what I will be doing that day. This helps me know how to prepare my mind and body for what I will be doing. I can do this in several ways, I can:

I can write down the things we will be doing each day on the calendar

I can draw the place we are going/activity we will be doing

I can write a list of the things I will be doing

I can look at pictures of the place we are going/activity we will be doing

I can make a short book about it
