

Cosmetic Safety Assessors & Lab Testing

To be able to sell your cosmetic products within the UK you will need to obtain a Cosmetic Product Safety Report (CPSR), which is also known as a Cosmetic Safety Assessment.

The following list provides information on cosmetic safety assessors that should be able to help you obtain your CPSR.

Each assessor has its own pricing scale and may offer bundled packages, so it is important to discuss your requirements with them individually.

The process can take anywhere from 2 weeks to several months depending on your specific products. Also please bear in mind they will have busy seasons like many service industries. Soap School does not accept any liability for the actions or services of these third parties.

Your CPSR is valid for cosmetics made and sold throughout the UK. The assessors may also be able to help with those wishing to import or export from outside these regions but you will need to discuss this with them and they will be able to advise you accordingly with the requirements they will need to proceed.

If you would like to learn how to label your cosmetics and the compliance required for the UK Market, you may wish to take the Labelling & Compliance Course offered by Soap School
