

BOUDOIR

Ishot Studios

A close-up, artistic photograph of a woman with long, wavy brown hair, wearing a gold lace bodice. She is looking down and to the side. The background is dark and textured. The overall mood is intimate and elegant.

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING

"I just completed a second photo shoot with Jasmine...the first was family photos and the second was boudoir. Jasmine is professional, detailed, and energetic. She is and passionate about her photography! I felt completely at ease/comfortable in her studio. The photos are absolutely beautiful and I'm so pleased. I highly recommend Ishot Studios!"

"Absolutely loved the experience. I did a boudoir shoot and Jasmine made me feel incredible before we even started. The photos were beyond what I was expecting. 100% recommend"

"What a great experience! Jasmine was great to work with. She made me feel comfortable from our first meeting and throughout the shoot, especially being pregnant. If you're hesitating, don't. The final product is gorgeous!"

THE WHY BOOK

WITH ISHOT STUDIOS?

I know exactly what you're thinking: "Jasmine, there are many photographers in New York! What sets you apart from all the rest?"

That is an excellent question!

My style is vintage with a modern twist between romantic and intimate. Its bold and sexy using natural light. Not mention that Im pretty fucking awesome and I want nothing more than for you to walk out of my studio feeling like you just won America's Next Top Model.

You see, choosing the right photographer is not only about having an incredible product at the end of the day.

I feel lucky to be able to give the gift of beauty back to others. It's a scary world out there and hard to deal with sometimes. I want to document the moments and accomplishments that make you feel good about that period in your life. I want you to feel a sense of pride and nostalgia when you pick up your album or open your folio box to see your prints.

Will my boudoir session be posted online?

A common question I'm asked about my boudoir photography is whether a client's images are going to end up on my website or on social media. That makes sense because I have images of other clients on these outlets, but the only images you're seeing are from women who decided they were 100% OK with those images being shared. None of my clients are obligated to have their images posted and, in fact, a large number of my clients opt to keep their session pictures private.

When you have a boudoir session with me, one of the first things we'll discuss is your privacy. Some women prefer to have zero images shared anywhere. Some are OK with me posting to a private and secure group online for other clients to see, and some don't mind having their images shown on my Instagram, Facebook, Pinterest, or Website.

If you'd like to share any images from your boudoir session, I'll run the image(s) by you first and let you know when they're being posted. You also reserve the right to have the images removed at any time. If you prefer to keep everything private, that's 100% OK and an option that many of my clients choose. To help ensure peace of mind, do note that I have taken extra protective measures in my home and on my computer to ensure your images are steel-trap safe.

Treat yourself

Break out of your comfort zone. Odds are, you've been spending too much time focusing on your flaws and not your beauty!

It's a fun experience where you have the chance to celebrate your beautiful body. It's a special session where you can discover the sexy that's been hiding within you all along.

If you don't try something new, you'll regret it. Good things never come from holding back!

Boudoir sessions show a different side of you. The adventurous side, the conquering her fears and getting out of that comfort zone side.

Someone out there believes in you. Show them you do, too, with powerful, out-of-this-world photos that will have you shook. It's a duo gift; fun for you and them! It's an intimate gift you both will love.

How to feel comfortable in front of the camera

No matter if you're a newbie or returning client, those butterflies will always pop up! How do you release the tension and capture your authentic self?

Rest, rest, rest. The night before, be sure to get enough sleep. Turn off the electronics, turn on a fan, and keep it dark!

Have everything you're bringing ready and prepared. I do have a client closet that you have full access to. Don't be afraid to ask questions and ask for advice. Consultations are Free and I want you to be as prepared as possible.

This might sound silly, but get in front of a mirror and practice. Move your body, see what angles you like, try out different expressions, and feel comfortable moving around!

Opt for the professional hair and makeup artist so that you can relax as soon as you get there. Allow yourself to be pampered and treated before your session.

Testimonials

"I cannot believe that was me. I came for my reveal believing that I wouldn't even like 10 of them. I wound up purchasing all of them!"

Jasmine is incredible. Not only did she make me feel completely comfortable but she taught me how to see myself differently.."

"A friend of mine told me about Jasmine's studio in New York. I wanted to book with her but wanted her to come to Arizona . After speaking Jasmine on zoom I was convinced she was the right investment for me.."

ELIMINATING COMMON FEARS

About Boudoir Sessions

We've heard common myths and fears from people about why they don't do boudoir. It's time to get rid of those fears once and for all!

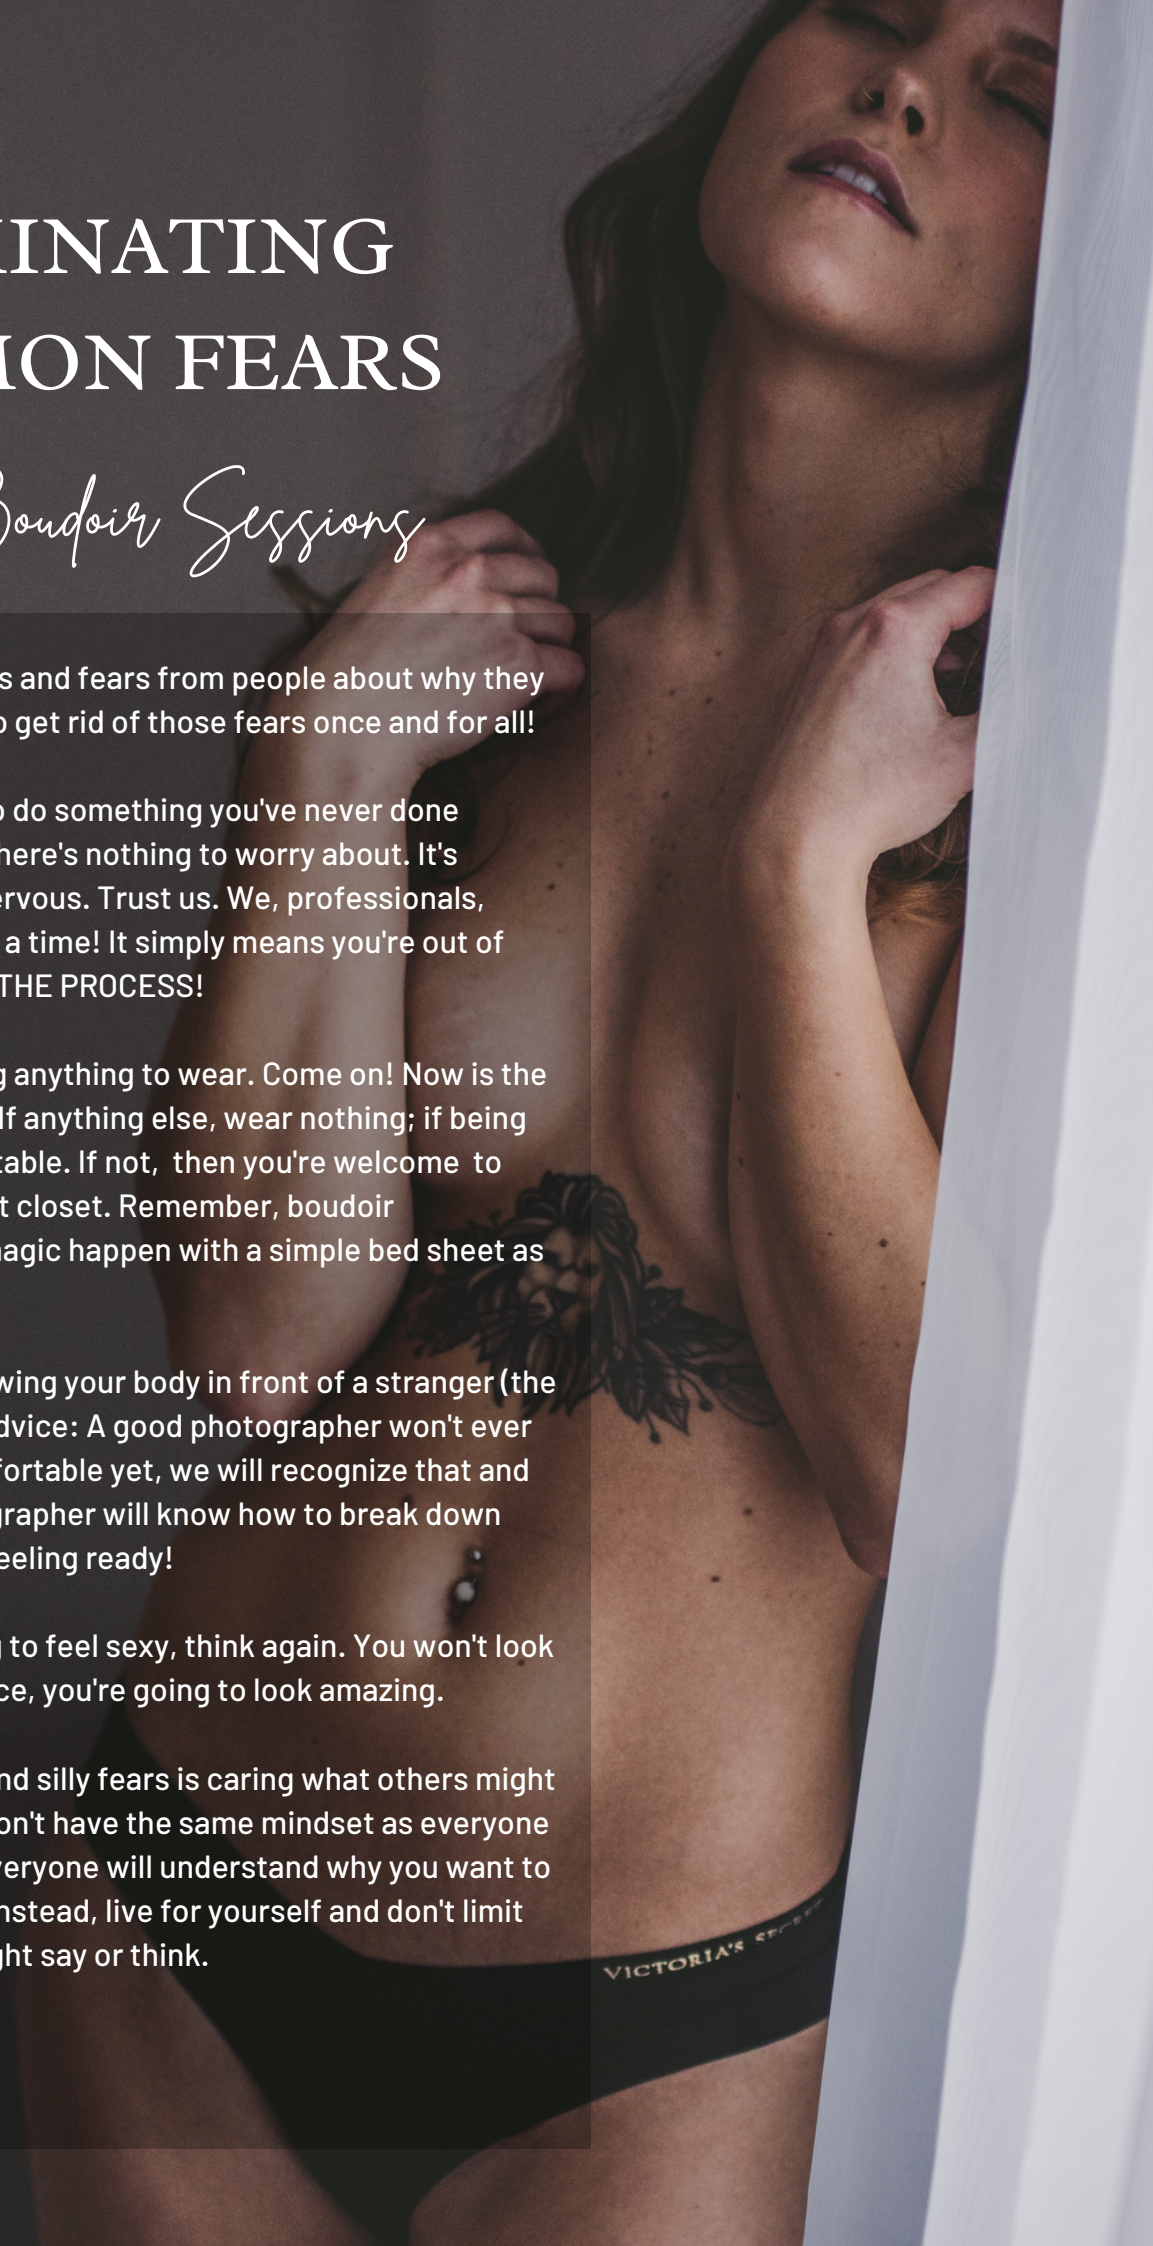

We know it's intimidating to do something you've never done before. But in all honesty, there's nothing to worry about. It's normal to be too shy and nervous. Trust us. We, professionals, have been there once upon a time! It simply means you're out of your comfort zone. TRUST THE PROCESS!

Another fear is... not having anything to wear. Come on! Now is the time to shop and have fun! If anything else, wear nothing; if being completely nude is comfortable. If not, then you're welcome to utilize my full stocked client closet. Remember, boudoir photographers can make magic happen with a simple bed sheet as well.

If you're worried about showing your body in front of a stranger (the photographer), here's my advice: A good photographer won't ever push you. If you aren't comfortable yet, we will recognize that and work with it. A good photographer will know how to break down those walls and have YOU feeling ready!

If you think you aren't going to feel sexy, think again. You won't look ridiculous. With our guidance, you're going to look amazing.

One of the most common and silly fears is caring what others might think. This is for you. You don't have the same mindset as everyone else, nor should you. Not everyone will understand why you want to do it. Don't live for others. Instead, live for yourself and don't limit yourself to what others might say or think.

FAQ

I'm really nervous. Is that normal?

It is definitely normal to be nervous for your boudoir session, so don't worry. Most of our clients are nervous until the session has gone on for a few minutes. After it starts, you'll begin to loosen up. If you're still nervous, try out these relaxation tips we've provided in another blog post: Click here.

How do I know how to pose?

Don't worry about posing. We've totally got you covered in that department. We know all the tricks to create the most flattering angles for you, no matter what shape or size you are.

Do your collections include hair and makeup?

We do offer collections separate from the booking session. Its 299 for a reservation for boudoir which includes the hair and make up artist. Full client closet access, condiments and 3 wardrobe changes, studio access and more.

Am I allowed to bring alcohol to help loosen my nerves?

Its not necessary. My super power is making clients feel comfortable, you won't need the alcohol.

Do you provide the wardrobe?

We do not provide your wardrobe. This is something you'll have to pick out and bring along yourself. If you need help choosing an outfit, we can definitely give you some suggestions, though.

I want share these pictures with my partner, but I don't want loose prints floating around. Any ideas for the best gift?

This is a very common concern and we totally understand. We recommend placing an order for our little black book. This is much more discreet and will keep all of your images in one place and not floating around. We also offer folios and accordion albums as well. For more information on these products, just ask.

What should I bring to my boudoir session?

For our sessions, we suggest two to three different outfits and any props you may want to incorporate. My motto is alwaysd LESS IS MORE...kind of vibes so be careful not to over do it.

Can I bring a friend?

Yes, you can bring a friend if you think it will help you relax. However, sometimes an extra set of eyes has the opposite effect, even if it is a friend. They are more than welcome to come, but if they are making you uncomfortable, they may have to wait out in the lobby.

A photograph of a couple embracing in front of a chalkboard. The woman is in the foreground, seen from the back, wearing a black lace crop top and blue jeans. She has a small tattoo on her upper back and is wearing a silver bracelet on her right wrist. The man is behind her, wearing a black baseball cap and a black tank top, with his arms wrapped around her. The chalkboard in the background has faint, handwritten text in white chalk, including "allegiance to the", "United States of America", "I do love to photograph", "couples. This can be done in your own element or", "at the studio. They are fun and will ignite those", "flames.", "invisable.", and "l.". The lighting is soft and focused on the couple, creating a romantic atmosphere.

Hair and Makeup – We highly recommend using a makeup artist. This is included in your initial reservation fee of $299 .Note: you are not obligated to utilize the hair and makeup and book a session would be $200

Couples Sessions – I do love to photograph couples. This can be done in your own element or at the studio. They are fun and will ignite those flames.
