

Dear Colleagues and Friends,

I hope this note finds you well and gearing up for the holidays! We have already begun to make a difference for many women and I want to include you in this partnership opportunity.

The Freckled Strawberry™ is a non-profit organization dedicated to empowering financial independence in women. We help women accomplish this by guiding them through our proven Methodology™.

- From us, women receive a dedicated registered financial advisor.
- Through us, ladies gain clarity in financial matters, access to valuable professional connections, and resources designed to advance financial acumen.
- With our help, women report higher levels of confidence with money, a network of sophisticated ladies to discuss financial matters, and increased financial independence.

Do you worry about your own financial independence?

Founded in 2020, The Freckled Strawberry™ is an advisor for women, made by women with a proven track record of success. We are a trusted advisor for women looking to advance in financial independence. We offer educational and empowering programs to help women gain confidence and feel in control of their own financial journey.

Do you worry about your daughter's, mother's, or sister's financial independence?

We have a dedicated network of female professionals who serve as educators and mentors to our clients, helping them to gain valuable and practical insight from women who know how to get things done.

We support stay-at-home Moms, career women, and lady entrepreneurs by walking them through our proven Methodology™, giving them access to the tools, resources, and relationships needed to succeed. We have opportunities for women wherever they are in their financial journey.

To date, we have supported over 70 women in 2022 and have made over 490 business connections for female entrepreneurs, with a growing network of 3,900 professionals.

At The Freckled Strawberry™, we believe that by giving women individualized tools, support, and guidance, we can empower them to take on the world.

This work is so important, and we can't do it alone!

We need partners to help ensure women have the tools, knowledge, support, and guidance they need to advance in financial independence. With your support, we can host workshops together for female entrepreneurs, connect women to mentors and experts, encourage and guide women along their professional journey, and so much more! When women succeed, the entire community succeeds.

Here's what women are saying.....

Join us and empower women to take on the world!
