The Proposal: Although they met through mutual friends in 2006, it was another 10 years before Ashley and Adam became a couple. In 2016, when a false accusation threatened Ashley's career, Adam, unbeknownst to her, wrote a letter on her behalf. She fell in love with him while reading his words in an email. They began dating and six months later, when she was about to leave from a visit at his house, Adam asked her to marry him, saying he couldn't wait any longer. He pulled the ring box from under the sofa and Ashley immediately said yes.
