TO BUILD OTHERS UP SO THEY CAN CONFIDENTLY SHINE.

Hey there! I'm Mariah, owner of Wander Design Co. I work with dreamers and doers so they can confidently SHINE when sharing their gifts and talents with the world.

After 5 years in corporate graphic, web design and marketing, I quit my job to build my own legacy. I started by taking any client I could but quickly got burnt out and was ready to throw in the towel on my graphic design career - until I started working exclusively with my ideal clients.

Over the past 13 years, I have helped small businesses all over the country build their brands through beautiful and intentional branding + Showit websites, as well as helping them find their WHY while living my own WHY - to build others up so they can confidently shine. I've shared my knowledge all over the internet on places like HGTV, Design*Sponge, Alt Summit and Huffington Post and have created programs and tools that help creative business owners thrive.

I spend my days working with my ideal clients surrounded by houseplants + good music at home with my two boys by my side.
