

Parts Equal Total

Use this structure when the math main idea of the story describes:

- parts being composed to form a total, or
- a total being decomposed to form parts

*Example: Ms. Felder has 8 balloons.
Three are red. The rest are yellow.
How many are yellow?*

8 balloons

3 balloons
(red)

— balloons
(yellow)